

ATTACKS OHIO NATIONAL GUARD

POMERENE FRENCH TURNING TO PERSHING SILENT RUSHES TO OFFENSIVE AT VERDUN FOR THREE DAYS; ITS DEFENSE ARMY CONTINUES

Washington, D. C., April 15.—An attack on the Ohio National Guard by Senator Borah, of Idaho, Republican, featured discussion of the army reorganization bill in the senate today. Senator Pomerene, of Ohio, went to the defense of the guard, refuting Senator Borah's charges of extravagance against militia officers.

The discussion followed an amendment of the bill, 33 to 23, to require guardsmen to take oath to obey orders of the president as well as the governor of their state.

To illustrate his charges of extravagance, Senator Borah said: "I find, according to the report of the war department, that at the Ohio National rifle match, 1911, $13,892 was expended on the state rifle team, all of whom are officers. In the period from July 22, 1911, to September 23, 1912, an officer, a colonel, drew pay to the amount of $1,411. In the period from July 1, 1911, to September 15, 1912, another officer also in the same state, a colonel drew pay to the amount of $1,601.

"In the period from July 30, 1911, to September 1, 1913, a third colonel in the state drew pay to the amount of $1,290.

"So the entire appropriation or apportionment to the state of Ohio for that year practically went to the officers and there is no report of portion of it going to enlisted men."

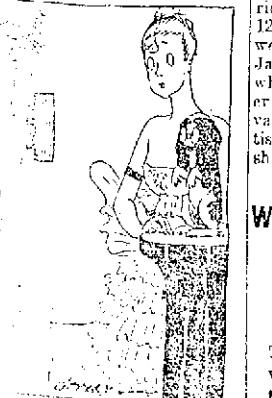

To further strengthen federalization of the national guard, the senate today, 33 to 23, amended the army reorganization bill to require guardsmen to take oath to obey the orders of the president as well as the governor of their state. The amendment was presented by Senator Wadsworth of Ohio, who said it originated in the national guard itself.

Senator Pomerene, of Ohio, had been on to defend the national guard against attacks by Senator Borah, Republican, who said the national guard was "a waste of money."

Senator Pomerene suggests that the national guard has existed, there are remedies at law.

Explaining his amendment, Senator Wadsworth said: "The purpose of the amendment is to require national guard soldiers to take the oath of allegiance to the United States and secondarily in the name of the state," said Senator Wadsworth.

GERMANY IS NOT ANXIOUS TO BREAK WITH UNITED STATES

London, April 15.—The correspondent at the Hague of the Exchange Telegraph Company forwards the following:

Considerable perturbation has been caused at the Berlin foreign office by news received by wireless of American dissatisfaction with the recent German note. The chancellor had several conferences with the American ambassador and also discussed possibilities with Count Von Bismarck, Austrian-Hungarian foreign minister, who is now in Berlin. Lengthy instructions were sent to Ambassador Bernstorff at Washington.

German officialdom now seems willing to strain every nerve in order to avoid a rupture with the United States while the press continues in a most flamboyant to give advice to President Wilson, publishing vicious articles and cartoons of the president."

Washington, D. C., April 15.—The United States government today was ready for its next step in the crisis with Germany over submarine warfare. This was the preparation of a communication to be sent to Berlin designed to bring the situation to an issue.

The communication will go forward within the next few days. The impression prevails here that it will not be dispatched pending a careful examination of all the evidence at hand regarding recent submarine cases including affidavits in the case of the English steamer Sussex which arrived yesterday. Indications are, however, that the case against Germany is complete without the latest affidavits and that Germany will be informed that the Washington government considers she has not fulfilled promises made to this country.

MUNITIONS THROWN INTO SEA

Honolulu, April 15.—War supplies, including powder, cartridges and machinery, weighing 123 tons and valued at $80,000, were thrown overboard from the Japanese steamer Ide Maru, which arrived here April 12, under a damaged rudder. The cargo valued at $3,600,000 was jettisoned to lighten the disabled ship forward during a gale.

WOMEN AND CHILDREN FLED FROM FLAMES

Cleveland, O., April 15.—Two score persons, mostly women and children, fled to the street for safety early today when fire, due to spontaneous combustion, destroyed a wine shop in the rear of the home of Charles Di Marco, on East 33rd street, together with two barns adjoining.

U-BOAT IN SUSSEX CASE HAS BEEN SUNK

PARIS, France, April 15.—The official press bureau of the Ministry of Marine has issued the following statement: "We could publish the name of the commander and the number of the submarine which attacked the Sussex, as well as the story of her journeyings prior to the crime."

"The submarine was destroyed on April 5, and her officers and crew confirm all the information we possess in this matter."

DAY IN CONGRESS

SENATE
Resumed debate on army reorganization bill adopting amendment requiring national guard soldiers to take oath of allegiance to the president of the United States as well as to the state. Sinal inquiry continued.

HOUSE
Resumed debate on agricultural appropriation bill.

Washington, D. C., April 15.—The American consul at Queens-town, reporting the destruction of the Aberdeen bark, Inverlyon, enabled today that the ship was sunk by gun fire of a submarine after fifteen minutes had been given to abandon the vessel. Two Americans, he said, were in the one boat load which was saved and that none were in the boat load which was unaccounted for. The Inverlyon, he reported, was unarmed and made no resistance.

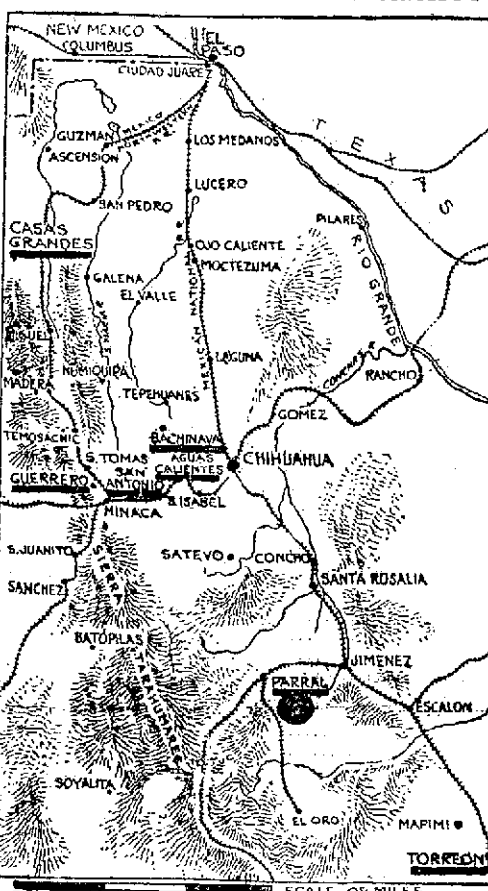

GIRLS BODY FOUND FLOATING IN CISTERN; MURDER SUSPECTED

Columbus, O., April 15.—Police today investigated the mysterious death of Miss Lillian Schwenker, aged 19, whose half-clad body was found floating in the cistern of her home last night. The possibility that robbers had ransacked the house and murdered the girl appeared slight today in view of the fact that nothing had been stolen, although the house was found in a confused condition with furniture overturned. One young man was arrested by police early today and held on suspicion. His overalls bore, what seemed to be blood stains, and in trying to purchase new clothes, he offered a five dollar bill which also appeared stained by blood.

The police in advancing the suicide theory cited these circumstances. The girl had been despondent at times. Her father's razor evidently had been used to slash her wrists. Part of the girl's clothing was scattered about in different rooms of the house. She had not been criminally assaulted. The Schwenker house is not pretentious, and ordinarily would not be considered a prize for robbers.

Police authorities suggested that she put the house in disorder as a means of indicating that she had battled with an intruder. Failing in efforts to slash her wrists she removed the cover from the cistern and jumped in. The mother and sister found her body therein, returning home late in the evening. The father, who is deaf, was asleep in an upstairs room.

U. S. FORCES FAR INTO MEXICO

The above map shows the towns where the Carranza forces are located along the line of march in the chase after Villa. The American advance has gone beyond Parral, (distinctly shown on the map) where they were attacked by Mexican citizens. This necessitates keeping open a line of communications for a distance of 350 miles south of the border.

According to the latest information, the Carranza forces are located at the following towns, though there has been a gradual concentration toward the American supply route: Juarez, 1,500; Guzman, 100; Ascension, 800; Pearson, 200; Villa Ahumada, 800; Onitas Pass, 1,000; Namiquipa, 500; Madera, 1,200; Minaca, 300; Guerrero, 500; Chihuahua City, 4,000; Satevo, 1,500; Parral, 500; Jimenez, 500; Santa Barbara, 300; Santa Rosalia, 300; Escalon, 500.

It is estimated that Carranza has 12,000 troops in Sonora, 5,000 in Durango, and 6,000 at Torreon.

BRITISH TO CALL 18 YR. OLD YOUTHS

London, April 15.—Great Britain will shortly call to the colors her eighteen-year-old youths, according to reports in the lobby of the house of commons. It is the intention that the youths thus called will go into training immediately although they will not be liable to service abroad until they reach the age of nineteen.

Teams which was finished last night. Soppala's time was 30 hours and 27 minutes. Fay Dillmore's team of 14 Alaska huskies was second and Fred Ayer's team of 14 fox hounds third.

OPEN DRIVE FROM DEAD MAN'S HILL

The German war office announcement of today contains the statement that the French have advanced to the attack before Verdun. The positions held by the Germans on Dead Man's Hill and near that point were assaulted by waves of French infantry, the report states, but the French charges broke down with heavy losses, those who reached the German trenches being killed in hand to hand fighting.

No mention of this battle was made in the official French reports of this afternoon or last night, which gave the impression that only artillery fighting was under way.

Heavy artillery exchanges continue along the front before Verdun, but the German infantry has not returned to the assault. The chief point of attack of the German guns last night was the area between Malancourt wood and Hill 304, to the west of the sector, bombarding it most vigorously in the preceding twenty-four hours. Although severe artillery fighting continued in the vicinity of Corbenay wood near the west bank of the river. East of the Meuse there were intermittent artillery engagements.

Increased activity on the Gallien front is indicated by a statement from the Austrian war office. Along the lower strip there were brisk engagements for possession of advanced positions. Russian artillery is bombarding portions of this front heavily.

In the Austro-Italian campaign repeated attacks were made on each side. Austrian troops captured an Italian position at Miedzich, beating back several counter attacks with heavy losses for the Italians.

The British ship Shenandoah, 3,886 tons has been sunk by a mine. The captain and part of the crew were landed. Two men are missing.

A news agency despatch from The Hague says the German foreign office is perturbed on account of the dissatisfaction expressed in the United States at the German note in regard to the Sussex. Chancellor Von Bethmann-Hollweg is reported to have had several conferences with Ambassador Gerard and Count Von Bismarck, Austro-Hungarian foreign minister, and have sent lengthy instructions to Ambassador Von Bernstorff at Washington. According to these advices, German officials now seem willing to do everything possible to avoid a rupture with the United States.

Washington, D. C., April 15.—Eliseo Arredondo, General Carranza's ambassador here, said today he had no further information of the fighting at Parral not of reports of a later clash and had been advised of no developments in General Carranza's proposal for the withdrawal of American troops.

Dispatches to the Carranza embassy said the arrival of the general and his party in Mexico today was accompanied by a popular demonstration. A battle at Cuernavaca, the Zapala stronghold, was reported imminent.

The advance guard of the Carranza forces was said to be in plain sight of the fortress.

London, April 15.—The steamship Shenandoah, 3,886 tons gross, has been sunk by a mine. The captain and part of the crew have been landed. Two men are missing.

PERSHING SILENT FOR THREE DAYS; ARMY CONTINUES TO STAY IN MEXICO

Washington, D. C., April 15.—Secretary Lansing pronounced the Mexican situation unchanged today in any aspect.

Unless official reports to General Funston disclose a more grave situation at Parral, where American troops were fired upon, than is now believed to exist, there was nothing to indicate that a change might be expected in the near future.

Secretary Baker said General Funston had not heard from General Pershing directly for three days. That caused no uneasiness at the war department, however, as General Pershing has reported only when he had definite information. Reports from other commanders in the field gave no new status to the pursuit of Villa and his bandits.

As time passes without official information of the Parral fighting from American sources, officials are inclined to doubt that the clash was as serious as described in early Mexican advices. It was considered unlikely that the American force was in any dangerous plight since the commander might have sent back messengers to the nearest supporting column.

BURTON ON OREGON BALLOT

Salem, Oregon, April 15.—At the primaries May 19, the ballot will contain the names of Theo. E. Burton, of Ohio, Albert B. Cummins, of Iowa, and Charles E. Lockwood, of Oregon, candidates for the Republican nomination for president. Although Justice Charles E. Hughes has asked that his name be omitted, a lengthy petition has been filed asking that he be given a place on the slate. The Secretary of State has the petition under consideration. For vice president, William Grant Webster, of Chicago, is the only Republican candidate. Woodrow Wilson's name will stand on the Democratic ballot.

HOMEWARD BOUND

Philadelphia, Pa., April 15.—The thirty-three survivors of the British steamer Englishman, torpedoed by a German submarine on March 24, who arrived here yesterday on the steamer Cornishman, left today for their homes in various parts of the country. All survivors, except one were American cattle men. According to Dr. Helie, of Montreal, the Englishman was shelled by the submarine before the crew took to the boats and was torpedoed after all of the life boats had gotten safely away. Two of the life boats capsized and ten men drowned.

Wanted To Stay At Home For Aged Women

Police Clerk Harry Johnson unexpectedly found a knotty problem on his hands when called upon Saturday afternoon to remove a strange woman from the home for aged women.

The woman gave her name as Mrs. Sabilla Hilliard and gave residence, Penn., as her home. She said she was a soldier's widow and that she was 71 years of age. She claimed that her son and his wife with whom she had been staying in Ashland, Ky., for a short time, took her pension money Friday and ran off with it. Neighbors advised her to come to the home where she was told she would be taken care of. She followed their advice, arriving here on the packet Greyhound. At the wharfbreak she engaged a drayman to haul her trunk to the home. Mrs. Mary A. Larsh, the matron, refused to receive the trunk and also informed the woman that she could not be admitted. Once inside, however, she refused to leave. Johnson vainly coaxed her to return to Ashland, even offering to pay her passage, but she refused. Judge T. C. Beatty refused to have anything to do with the case, saying it was not up to him. No place could be found for her at the Rescue home and late Saturday Johnson was seeking to have the Salvation Army take the woman in for safe-keeping.

Ordered Meat Wouldn't Pay, Is Locked Up

Ed Spencer, claiming to be from Missouri, ordered some meat and a loaf of bread at M. Schissler & Son's meat market Saturday and telling a clerk to "charge it" walked out. Police were notified, but at the sight of Officer Shonkwiler approaching, Spencer swung aboard a passing street car and escaped. Officer Richmond took up the chase, the crew stopping the car for him at East Portsmouth and turning the man over to him. On the return trip the patrol stopped at the meat market to have the prisoner identified. Before the officers could say a word, Spencer held out a dime to the butcher, saying, "Here's your money, you know I told you I would be back." His money was refused and he was taken to the city prison and slated "drunk and disorderly."

The "Barefoot" Tire—and Why.

CONSIDER now the means by which many Tires have been given maximum Traction, i.e., by means of a "sandpaper" texture in the Rubber of their Anti-Skid Treads.

Every time the Brakes are put on, to make such Tires grip the road, the relatively hard, unyielding, and comparatively brittle, texture of the Rubber in their Treads causes these Treads to grind away on the pavement, to WEAR OUT fast at the point of contact.

The sudden efficiency of their grinding-Traction also tugs so sharply on the Rubber Adhesive between the layers of Fabric in Tires as to separate these layers.

There is little "give" to them—just as there is little "slide" to them.

So, they gain Traction at the expense of Mileage.

Naturally such Tires require a great BULK of such Rubber in order to deliver reasonable Mileage before worn out.

And, therein they differ radically from GOODRICH "Barefoot" Tires.

Because, the Safety-Tread on Goodrich Tires is made of "Barefoot-Rubber," a new, and exclusive compound which discards unnecessary whitish "frictional" ingredients that are heaviest and inert, as proved by their lighter weight.

HERE is how it acts in Automobiling.—

When the weight of the Car bears on this clinging "Barefoot-Rubber" Tread, and the power is applied to go ahead or reverse, the wonderful stretch in the "Barefoot" Rubber Sole (or Tread) of the Goodrich Tire acts as a sort of Lubricant between the Fabric Structure of the Tire and the Road.

Then, the Barefoot-Rubber "Tees," of the Goodrich Safety-Tread Tire, CLING to the pavement (instead of grinding against it), in such manner as your Bare Foot would cling to a slippery surface—without Grind, and so, with the minimum of Frictional Heat or Wear for maximum Traction.

Goodrich "Barefoot-Rubber" is now made into Goodrich FABRIC Tires,—Goodrich Silvertown Cord Tires,—Goodrich Inner Tubes,—Goodrich Truck Tires,—Goodrich Motor Cycle, and Bicycle, Tires, as well as into Goodrich Rubber Boots, Over-Shoes, Soles and Heels.

Get a Gliver of it from your nearest Goodrich Branch, or Dealer. Stretch it thousands of times, but break it you can't.

That's the Stuff that GOODRICH Black-Tread Tires are made of.

LITTLE LOST BOY DIDN'T TREAT HIS CAPTORS MILDLY

A lost child created considerable excitement among West End residents by the manner in which he resisted efforts to capture him Saturday morning.

The child was William Argula, a four-year-old son of T. C. Staples, a railroad contractor of Virginia, whose wife is a patient at Hempstead Hospital.

Mrs. Walter Glenn was attracted to the child weeping and aimlessly wandering about the vicinity of Second and Market streets. A moment later she recognized him as the same child she had seen while she was visiting a sick woman friend at the hospital a few days ago. She took hold of him but he fought her off and ran down Second street. Soon persons all along the line tried to intercept him but he would kick should do these things—clear away waste, dispel inflammation, invigorate the bodily processes. After a hard winter your blood may be clogged, your digestion not up to the mark, and stagnant areas (catarrhs) exist in the membranes of the stomach, intestines or lungs. The result is a tired feeling, irregular appetite and loss of energy.

Your Tonic for Spring

Peruna Invigorates
all your body, helps to soothe away all inflammation, restores the irregular appetite to a healthy condition, and clears away all waste. It's a real tonic—especially good in catarrhal conditions like indigestion, after effects of grip, convalescence, and spring lameness. You may take it with perfect safety, confident that it has been of benefit for 45 years to thousands, and hence possesses real merit. What it has done for them is the best evidence of what it will do for you. Begin it today. Beware of imitations. An original Peruna bottle is always at hand. The Peruna Company, Columbus, Ohio.

HOLD MORTGAGE, SUE FOR MONEY

The Portsmouth German Building and Loan Association company filed suit against Simpson G. Rufus and Bell Wilson and the City of Portsmouth, Saturday, in common pleas court, to collect money alleged due on a mortgage. The petition avers that Simpson and Rufus Wilson had borrowed $1,400 from the plaintiff June 20, 1907, agreeing to pay the same at the rate of $3.50 per week. In return, the defendants gave a mortgage upon a piece of property located on Gallia pike. The payments have been delinquent since August 11, 1915, according to the petition. Two years ago Gallia street was paved and the improvement materially damaged the property, the document contends, and since that time the defendants have filed suit against the city to collect $3,500 damages. In concluding the plaintiff asks that the court grant judgment for the amount due on the mortgage. Milner, Miller and Seel represent the plaintiff.

THE MARKETS

A REVIEW OF THE WEEK'S MARKETS

New York, N. Y., April 15.—(Week's Review)—The country's foreign relations were again the pivot around which this week's market revolved, Germany's note regarding the Sussex and the Caranza note calling for an early withdrawal of our troops from Mexico, exciting renewed alarm and causing numerous substantial price recessions. These were partly retrieved later on supporting orders and hasty covering of short commitments.

Another disturbing factor was the sensational decline in French Exchange, the Paris check rate falling to 6.09 and implying a discount of over 17 per cent. Inexplicable delay in negotiating a new French loan here, coupled with a steady accumulation of obligations in this market, contributed to this unprecedented weakness.

Viewed from almost any angle, domestic conditions continue highly favorable. Exports are only a little under recent maximum figures and bank clearings showed sustained activity in many lines of trade and such infallible barometers of industry as steel and copper point to unabated demand a decision of the rail manufacturers to advance the price of their product $5 on the ton after May 1, and the large gain in unfilled orders reported by the United States Steel Corporation for March are among the significant events of the week.

The crop outlook is somewhat doubtful, according to unofficial reports that have followed the recent adverse statement issued by the government, but, allowing for the backwardness of winter wheat, other items in the schedule of food stuffs offset that condition. Railroad earnings almost without exception are so far in advance of last year's statements as to make comparisons insidious. Stocks, as demonstrated by this week's movement, are mostly in strong hands, although there still exists what is believed to be an over-extended bull account in the specialties. Monetary conditions lose none of their long prevailing ease, but mercantile paper rates are hardening.

NEW YORK STOCKS

New York, April 15.—Today's short session alternated between periods of steadiness and heaviness. Caution seemed to be the underlying characteristic, traders apparently preferring to await a more definite turn in the country's external relations. Dealings were extremely light and narrow, even for a week end, and comprised the usual favorites such as Mexicans, Crucible Steel, Mercantile Marine preferred and Equipment issues. U. S. Steel was under moderate but steady restraint. Marked recovery in French exchange was among the few events of the day. The closing was firm. Bonds were irregular, heaviness of Anglo-French 5's of which one block of $750,000 changed hands at 95, contributing to that tone.

The absence of further unfavorable developments across the border was reflected in a better tone for Mexicans at today's opening, Mexican Petroleum and Greeng Cananea rising a point, with fractional advances for American smelting and Texas Company.

Coppers and some of the war shares made slight improvements over yesterday with similar gains in American Linseed preferred, distillers securities and U. S. Rubber. New Haven, Baltimore and Ohio, Norfolk and Western and Canadian Pacific were the only rails to make even moderate headway. United States Steel and Crucible Steel were reactionary.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS
Chicago, April 15.—Improved weather conditions, especially in the northwest, had a bearish effect today on wheat. Reports indicated that contrary to recent predictions seeding was making good progress in Canada. Besides Liverpool sent word of larger offers from Argentina, and of increased clearances from Australia. Opening prices which ranged from 3/4 to 1/2 decline to 1/4 advance, with May at $1.16 to $1.16 1/2 and July at $1.14 1/2 to $1.15 1/2 were followed by a slight general upturn, and then a decided setback all around.
Rains in Kansas and Nebraska led to further downturns. The close was unsettled, 1/4 to 3/4 net lower, with May at $1.15 1/2 and July at $1.14 1/2 to 3/4.
Corn turned down grade with wheat. Eastern shipping demand was said to be of insignificant proportions. After opening 1/4 off to 1/2 up the market underwent a moderate sag.
Later the east was said to be bidding strongly for cash corn in store. The close was firm at 3/4 to 3/4 net advance.
Oats had no important action, buying was scattered.
Weakness developed in provisions after a little firmness at the start.

'DEVILMENT OF STANDARD OIL SCATTERED' HE ALLEGES
Washington, D. C., April 15.—Department of Justice officials declined today to discuss whether the investigation into the rise of gasoline prices had reached a stage where criminal indictments were being considered. The gasoline agitation came up again in congress, today when Representative Howard, of Georgia, attacked the Standard Oil Co. as a "Trust" whose "devilment" has only been scattered by a court decision" and urged a house committee to report favorably his bill to declare an embargo on all crude oil products including gasoline, until a fair and equitable price has been restored in this country.

Big Revival Starts At First Christian On Sunday Morning

What is expected to be the biggest week in the history of the First Christian Church will begin Sunday morning at nine o'clock when the Bible School will convene with what is hoped to be the largest crowd of the year. Tomorrow will mark the opening day of the eight day revival, which will continue each night next week and end on Sunday evening, April 16, Easter Day.

Judging from the great enthusiasm manifested by the members in the cottage prayer meetings held this week, the revival will be one of the most successful ever held by a congregation in this part of the state. Scenes reminiscent of the Billy Sunday meetings will be enacted, for judging from the rapid beating of the pulse of the congregation and the always present evangelistic spirit, fully 100 will unite with the church tomorrow. Decision Day will be observed tomorrow, and should the meeting get off to a good start, there is no question as to the success of the out-come.

Services will be held each night of next week, and Rev. Charles R. Oakley, minister, promises some stirring addresses. Special music and songs will mark every service and all in all a great week is in store for the church of the cordial welcome.

To give the meetings one grand start, the Bible School intends to see to it that fully 1000 are present tomorrow when Supt. Charles M. Howland announces the first song. Be there on time, and let nothing keep you away from every service next week. Rev. Oakley's subject for his morning sermon will be "Borne of Four." In the evening his theme will be "The Great Physician." On Monday evening he will use for his subject, "Jesus Contrasted." Subjects of other sermons will be announced in The Times during the coming week.

Section Two again had the distinction in leading in attendance at the cottage prayer meetings last night. They reported 75 present. In one meeting alone 28 were present. Section Three had 33 present. In all it is thought fully 1000 persons attended the meetings held in the various homes during the week. According to Rev. Oakley he never approached a revival with as much hope and confident assurance of a successful outcome. This speaks well for the preliminary work that has been done. All members are urged to join in the great work and to help make the revival the greatest ever held in this community. Eight days of hard, consecrated work—that is the motto for every member.

The Brotherhood

Last Sunday morning's session of the All Saints' Brotherhood was one of the most interesting yet held by this popular class for men. And the session tomorrow morning bids fair to be even more interesting. The subject for discussion is, "What Constitutes a Church?" and that there will be a spirited discussion of this question goes without saying.

PALM SUNDAY AT ALL SAINTS

Members of the Guild of St. Mary Magdalene met at the rectory this afternoon and made hundreds of Palm Crosses, which will be distributed to church people at the Choral Festival tomorrow morning. At this service there will be the custom of the procession of the palms, which will take place immediately after the solemn blessing of the same by the rector. The children of the choir will carry palm branches in the procession, in imitation of the children who cried Hosanna! at the first Palm Sunday when Christ rode into the Holy City. The beautiful Palm Sunday hymns will be sung at both morning and evening services, and at the evening service the rector will preach about the Good Shepherd Who Gave His Life for the Sheep.

At this service also the choir will sing the "Story of the Cross," and for the offertory a new setting of the ancient Palm Sunday hymn, "Gloria laus, et honor"—"All Glory, Laud and Honor," written more than eleven hundred years ago by St. Theodulf, Bishop of Orleans, and easily the most distinguished poet of the Carolingian era.

Palm Sunday is always a notable day at All Saints' church, and the services are attended by large crowds of members, friends and adherents of the parish, including many strangers.

The general public is cordially invited to assist in celebrating the first day in Holy Week with that honor which it rightly merits. Those who come early will obtain the best seats, as all seats are free. The church is located at the corner of Fourth and Court streets. Take the car to Chillicothe and Fourth and walk two squares west to Court, or to Second and Court and walk two squares north to Fourth.

DISEASE MENACE, THREATENS MANY

Weak, Worn-Out Systems Cannot Withstand Assault of Diseases that May Cause Death.

SEVERE DANGER IN NEGLECT. Serious diseases, such as rheumatism, stomach disorders, blood impurities, kidney trouble, constipation, neuralgia and nervous debility, that bring down the strength of the whole body cannot be got rid of as one does a scratch or a sprain by letting them cure themselves. They are not self-terminating disorders. They demand a thoughtful scientific remedy.

There seldom has been a remedy so thoroughly grounded on the knowledge of what the sick body needs as Po-Dock the great vegetable compound. Splendid Order Is Growing Steadily

A committee composed of Frank Schmidt, chairman, P. W. Quichel, Lyda Hornbuckle, Mary E. Boyles and Esta Dixon was appointed at the weekly meeting of the Daughters of America, Friday evening to make arrangements for the entertaining of a large number of guests on June 24, when the third annual rally of members of the seventh district of Ohio will be held here. The Blues won with a total of 1845 points, the Pinks having a total of only 1710. Maternity! The Word of Words

It is written into life's expectations that motherhood is the one sublime accomplishment. And if there is anything, how simple, how apparently trivial, it may seem, it is a blessing, and such is a remedy called "Mother's Friend." You apply it over the stomach muscles. It is gently rubbed on the surface, and makes the muscles pliant; this relieves the strain on ligaments, natural expansion takes place without undue effect upon the nerves. And as the time approaches, the mind has gone through a period of repose, of gentle expectancy, and this has an unquestioned influence upon the future child. That this is true is evidenced by the fact that three generations of mothers have used and recommended "Mother's Friend." Ask your nearest druggist for a bottle of this splendid remedy. He will get it for you. And then write to Dr. J. C. Regulator Co., 467 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for a most interesting book of information for prospective mothers. It is mailed free. Write today. It is a book you will enjoy.

WON'T TAKE CRAIG BOY

William Weidner, the county infirmary superintendent, has notified the city authorities that he will not accept Landy Craig, the imbecile Earlstown youth, as an inmate.

Supt. Weidner declares that the laws prohibit him from taking care of a person thus afflicted, unless it be just temporary or until a permanent place is provided for him. In this instance he feels that if he took the boy to the infirmary he would have him on his hands for good. Judge T. C. Beatty, who had ordered the youth warranted over, when informed of Mr. Weidner's attitude, said he would investigate, adding that it was his intention of only placing the boy in the infirmary temporarily.

Overland

SIX

An exceptional car
—built to meet an
exacting demand

The six cylinder motor—in its perfected state—is the engineer's answer to the demand of the automobile enthusiast—the extremist if you will.

The perfected six cylinder motor is capable of a faster pick-up and a smoother flow of power than is possible in a four.

But not all sixes are superior to all fours.

We build fours that are superior to many sixes.

And our only purpose in building a six is to satisfy with Overland finally that extremist demand for well nigh miraculous motor performance.

The Overland Six is a big, roomy, luxurious, seven passenger car with a motor of unusual power, smoothness and flexibility.

But the price is only $1145—much lower than any other car of its size and class.

Such a low price for such a superlative car is possible only because the Overland Six is part of a huge production.

In fact Overland production is easily double that of any other builder of cars of like class.

So in buying the Overland Six you not only secure a car of very unusual performance—

But you get the advantage of the economies possible only in the production of cars on so vast a scale.

While the prices of established sixes are advancing, and those recently announced are on a higher price level, the Overland price remains at $1145.

It is so clearly dominant value among sixes of its size and class, that the demand is taxing even our large capacity.

Today is an Overland Six opportunity which can hardly last.

See us now and book your order.

SLOT MACHINES MUST GO, ORDERS MAYOR KAPS

Ban Is Also Placed On "Punch Boards"

The ban was placed upon penny and nickel-in-slot machines and punch boards by Mayor H. H. Kaps Saturday.

The mayor instructed Police Chief Henry Clark to order the removal of all such machines from cigar stores, pool rooms and other similar places of amusement. The order went into effect immediately and includes all other gambling devices that may be operating in violation of the city ordinances or laws of the state.

The action taken by the mayor is because the playing of slot machines has come to be abused. Many mere youths, it is said, have become regular patrons of such devices, spending all of their money in that manner and complaints have become general.

Passover Festival Will Be Observed

Next Monday evening, April 17th, is the beginning of the Passover festival. It is celebrated universally among the Jewish congregations in remembrance of the deliverance of the Children of Israel from Egyptian bondage. It is also called the Feast of Unleavened Bread. The festival is of a week's duration, but divine services are only held on the first and the last day. There will be services at the Temple, corner of Third and Washington streets, Monday evening, at 8:45 p. m. and Tuesday morning at 9:30.

Rabbi Frishy will officiate, assisted by the choir, under the leadership of Mrs. Phil Wickerham. During the week of this festival the Jewish families use the "matzos," or unleavened bread, instead of the ordinary leavened bread. There are also traditional religious exercises for the home, which are called "Seder." At these exercises the entire family gathers around the feast board and the marvelous providential redemption of the Israelites is related. Visitors are most cordially welcome at the Temple at all services.

REV. J. E. DIBERT, Supt.

WOODROW OBJECTED TO ACTION

At a joint meeting of the members of the County Republican Executive and Central committees, held Saturday at the rooms of the Scioto County Republican club, resolutions were passed endorsing the action of the committee which was appointed at the last joint meeting held February 11, 1916 to attend the Sixth Congressional district meeting at Cincinnati. The candidacy of Hon. Theodore E. Burton, for president, Frank B. Willis for governor, Senator Warren Harding, Gov. Frank B. Willis, Hon. William C. Proctor and Hon. J. J. Sullivan for delegates-at-large to the national convention; Hon. George L. Davis and Hon. Frank J. McCafferty, for delegates to the national convention from the Sixth district; and Hon. J. O. McManis and U. G. Predmore, for alternates to the national convention from the Sixth district.

Dr. P. W. Young, chairman of the county executive committee stated that the purpose of the meeting was to make arrangements for the April 28th primaries and to pass resolutions endorsing the action of the following committee which was appointed at the meeting held in February to attend the district meeting at Cincinnati: John F. Bekhart, Dr. P. W. Young, Mayor H. H. Kaps, Roy McElhenny and Charles E. Hard.

Mr. Hard presented a resolution endorsing the candidacy of the delegates and the alternates to the national convention from the Sixth district which were agreed upon at the Cincinnati meeting and asked that they be passed.

Attorney Alex C. Woodrow asked for a roll call to ascertain the number of members of the committees present saying: "I do not believe that there is a quorum present and before we can take any legal action binding the executive and central committees to this resolution we must have a quorum."

After an extended discussion during which Mr. Hard explained that similar resolutions were passed at the joint meeting held in February and a committee was appointed to attend the Sixth district meeting at Cincinnati with "assurances that their action would be endorsed by both committees" and suggested that the members of the two committees present pass the resolution.

Mr. Hard read an editorial appearing in a recent issue of The Times in which it was said that the county political organizations of both parties should endorse the candidates selected at the district conventions and commended the spirit in which it was written.

John Staten, member of the committee, who did not attend the last meeting, said that he decidedly favored supporting the action of the committee and moved the adoption of the resolution.

"I am objecting to this action," said Alex C. Woodrow, "for we have not a majority here today. There are twenty-seven in the room and there is not a quorum present. I myself do not want to go back upon the action of the committee but I insist that the roll be called and the resolution be passed as required by law. If you don't you will make trouble just as sure as the sun shines. Do you know how many members of the central committee are present, Dr. Young? Well, I will tell you. There are seven members."

"The members of the two committees present," interrupted Dr. Young, "please stand up."

Sixteen men stood up.

"It is illegal," continued Mr. Woodrow, "to endorse anyone without a quorum present. This committee is organized under the statutes of Ohio and the proceedings are to be conducted in a legal way. I insist that the resolution be tabled."

The resolution was adopted by those attending the meeting with Mr. Woodrow casting the dissenting vote.

Two others were submitted: one recommending the Columbus Saturday Monitor to the republicans of the county and the other commending the selection of U. S. Senator Warren G. Harding as temporary chairman of the republican national convention.

After reading the latter, Mr. Hard said that the people of Ohio should feel proud that Senator Harding was selected to fill this responsible office, which he termed as the most important at the convention. "The temporary chairman is expected to sound the keynote of the republican party and his speech is the most important of the convention."

These two resolutions were also adopted with Mr. Woodrow objecting.

John F. Bekhart gave a short sketch of the formation of the Scioto County Republican club and urged all members of the committee to attend the meeting to be held Tuesday evening.

Frank Parker, committeeman from the North End, said:

"The colored republicans are not asleep and have organized a republican club with a membership of thirty-five with prospects of doubling within the next two weeks."

In concluding, Mr. Hard suggested that the chairman of the executive committee ask the members of the committee not attending the meeting to send in their opinion of the resolutions passed by mail.

Mr. Woodrow again objected to the resolutions and said:

"There has been no action taken. There is not a quorum present and you know it. I have no objection to the action of the committee nor to the resolutions, but I do insist, that the resolutions be adopted by a quorum. There is no meeting of the executive and central committees. We cannot pass these resolutions. I could go to work and join this action taken today. This is a legal body and I know there are men in this body who do not approve of the endorsement."

The meeting adjourned while Mr. Woodrow was arguing about the legality of the action taken.

John F. Bekhart, of the County Executive committee, stated that the committee had endorsed the candidacy of Albert Pyles for reappointment as member of the board of election.

The resolutions are as follows: Whereas, at a joint meeting of the Scioto County Central and Executive Committees held on Feb. 11, 1916, Hon. George H. Davis was endorsed as the Scioto County candidate for delegate to the Republican National Convention and delegates were chosen to attend a district conference to secure his endorsement thereof, and whereas, the following resolution was then adopted:

"That said delegates are directed and instructed to do all in their power and to use all honorable means to secure the support of our sister counties for Mr. Davis and we will sustain and support them in any agreements they may enter into in pursuance to this resolution and the spirit thereof."

And whereas, the said delegates secured the unanimous endorsement at said district conference for Mr. Davis and entered into an agreement on behalf of Scioto county to return to support Hon. Frank J. McCafferty of Brown county, J. O. McManis of Adams, and U. G. Predmore, of Clermont, for alternates, who was also unanimously endorsed at said conference;

Therefore, be it resolved, that we commend the action of the Scioto county delegates in securing the endorsement of Mr. Davis and call upon the Republicans of Scioto county to aid in keeping in good faith the agreement entered into by all going to the polls at the primary election and voting for George H. Davis and Frank J. McCafferty for delegates to the Republican National Convention.

And whereas, the Hon. Theo. E. Burton, the candidate of Ohio for the presidency, is desirous of the election of Governor Frank B. Willis, Senator Warren G. Harding, Hon. Wm. Cooper Proctor, and Hon. John J. Sullivan as delegates at large from Ohio to the Republican National Convention, and of Hon. George H. Davis and Hon. Frank J. McCafferty as dele-

Washington, April 15.—The American people, the world's coffee drinkers, actually consume forty per cent of the coffee sold in the international markets, according to figures announced today by the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce. More than one billion pounds of coffee came to this country last year.

Germany normally is second in coffee drinking, but the war cut off her imports last year and made France second with receipts less than one-fourth as large as America's purchases. The entire United Kingdom consumes only one thirty-fifth the amount of coffee drunk in the United States. The United States ranks third in tea drinking with the United Kingdom first and Russia second. One-fourth of all the cocoa pro-

Local German's View Of European War

(Written by Louis F. Korth, former Editor of The Correspondent.)

Friday, April 14, 1916.

The battle of Verdun, as the numerous actions north, east and west of the city since beginning of the German offensive on February 21, collectively may be called, seems to be nearing the crisis. Whatever the end may be, whether an immediate decisive success is achieved or the Germans have to content themselves for the time being with their large gain of fortified territory until a general attack along the whole line is feasible, the situation on this war front has changed materially to their advantage.

Last week we predicted the fall of Bethincourt, one of the strongest of the outer Verdun positions to the west. The Germans, following up the capture of Hancourt with two redoubts, Alsace and Lorraine, took it by a flanking movement, cutting off the retreat of the garrison, a full battalion. It was the northwest pillar of the salient which divided their forces west of the Meuse. They are now driving against the Chateau-Besnes line, of which by Paris admission the first trenches are in their hands.

They forced the Forges Creek and stormed the Ternoite ridge northwest of Avocourt, gaining considerable ground toward height 304, which is the key to Enes, where two important roads to fortress and railroad verge. Paris reports that height 304 and the fortified hills around Enes are being shelled by the Germans. They have to be taken before a general assault can be attempted, and as they are strongly fortified and the French have massed heavy columns of troops for their defense, the attackers have a most difficult task before them which cannot be overcome in a day.

There has been heavy fighting this week on a front of thirteen miles from this region to Fort Douaumont east of the river, where the Germans stormed a big ravine on the foot of Pepper Hill, through which a French supply road runs, and again shortened their front. The French made a number of heavy attacks on both sides of the river to regain lost positions but everywhere without success and with heavy loss. Their valor however is fully recognized by the German commands.

When the Germans first advanced in the western Meuse valley they crushed both flanks of the French. The right was forced through the Raven Woods upon Camieres, the left over Malancourt to Avocourt. The new French position thus formed the salient often mentioned, an acute angle with the point at Bethincourt, the French centre. The fall of Bethincourt made the whole position untenable and the French had to retreat to the Malancourt-Enes line, the pivot of which is the hill 304. What military engineering has at its command has been employed to make it as formidable as possible, starting with mud and pallisades and heavy wiring at the foot of the fortifications in three tiers around the hill to the top which is crowned with a citadel, commanding the entire line and the roads to Fort de Marre (Verdun) and Dombasle on the Paris railroad.

A week ago Berlin reported the capture of mine crater positions near Ypres, in the Flandrish canal zone, from the British, which were defended by Canadians. Last Monday night the British made a strong hand grenade attack, preceded by intense artillery fire, upon the German positions at St. Eloi, south of Ypres, but were repulsed.

With the spring thaws the condition of the ground on the eastern war front has changed and larger operations have to be deferred until the roads dry up. All is quiet on Duena and Dniester. Only local engagements of small importance have occurred lately.

From the Austro-Italian front an increased activity is reported, especially in the Alps. In the Rauchkofel range the Italians took an Austrian position but were driven out again with the loss of men and machine guns.

Concerning the prospective change from the defensive to the offensive on the Tyrolean front and the descent of the Austrians out of the Alps into the Adige valley to Verona despatches from Rome say it was decided upon in a council of war, where Archduke Eugene, the Austrian commander in chief in that part of the field, presided. Large supplies of munition have arrived at Trent and passenger traffic has been suspended to facilitate the movement of troops which are arriving in large numbers from the Austro-Rumanian border.

Rome says that the Austrians have brought a number of heavy batteries in position on the heights between the Adige and Sugana valleys in Tyrol.

In the Caucasus the picture has completely changed to the advantage of the Turks, who have succeeded in bringing heavy reinforcements to Trebizonde and Sinvas by means of German motor service. Petrograd says, the problem remains: how are these forces to be provisioned? Russian ships caper or destroy the Turkish transports on the Black Sea.

The Turks have concentrated at Beirbut, half way between Erzerum and Trebizonde, where a battle is on.

From Mesopotamia bad news has come for the Allies. The flood period has set in and the Tigris valley is under water. What London last week described as a great victory for the British at Felahie, or Sanayat, south of Kut-M-Amar, has turned into a cutting defeat for them.

The British attacked the Turks in their trenches. The Turks withdrew because they were under water, leaving only a small garrison, which took up the fight with the British and drew them on. When the Turks had the British where they wanted them they commenced a general attack and fairly butchered a whole brigade. More than 2,000 dead were counted after the battle. The defeat of the British has made an end to General Lake's attempts to relieve Townshend at Kut-M-Amar, Constantinople claims. His position is today more desperate than ever.

General Lake, superior to General Aylmer, has two divisions at Samayat on both banks of the Tigris. He claims that the high water blocks him for the present, but says, he will try it again. Even if he takes Yaf he will encounter the Turks once more at Eslin, where they hold another strong position, before he gets to Kut.

By official record of the Austrian government the Russians destroyed in Galicia 1,327 villages and hamlets, 253 towns wholly or partially. Several hundred thousands of the civilian, non-combatant population of both sexes in Galicia, Bukovina and Northeastern Hungary were carried off as hostages, mostly to Siberia. Loathsome diseases were spread among the women by the Asiatic troops.

The French former deputy Comper-Morel says in L'Humanite: "While Germany has cultivated every foot of arable soil France has plowed 736,000 hectares (about 1,800,000 acres) less in 1915 than in 1913. There has been no government regulation of production, no regulation of consumption as in Germany, and no provision for the feeding of the people."

Morel proves his statement by figures from the report of the Agricultural Department which lays the acreage shortness to the want of help on account of the war.

It is not a Petrograd but a home story this time that the Russians are digging for Noah's ark on Mount Ararat (Caucasus) to help their British brethren out in tonnage, the price of which has risen enormously. An old Chilean salt-peter tramp, the Gobernador Bories, which was sold in 1914 for $62,500, was resold a few days ago for Norwegian account, in New York at $500,000. And similar transactions occur every day. By estimate of our Department of Commerce the world's tonnage at the end of last year had shrunk by four million tons since the big war began. Freighters have climbed up 300 and 400 per cent and maritime insurance in proportion.

The United States grand jury in Boston, which has been investigating the conspiracy plots for the destruction of munition factories in New England, has found no proof for the charges, which originated with a bogus detective after a job.

A resolution for investigation of charges against Sir Samuel Hughes, minister of militia, submitted by Sir Wilfrid Laurier was voted down in the Canadian Parliament but his resignation is expected. Hughes contracted with four American firms for munition and is accused of accepting a commission.

The Standard Oil Co. is supplying Germany by way of Denmark and the British do not dare to trouble the tank steamers because if they do their own oil supply will be shut off.

By the army reorganization law of 1914 Portugal ought to have a force of 30,000 effectives but according to a communication of the minister of war to the parliament it can only put half of that number into the field. He calls for an appropriation to equip them, especially the artillery, which has guns but no horses.

Postmasters along the American-Canadian border have complained to the department at Washington that letters have been opened and passed upon by the censor in the Dominion. Even letters to members of the American Embassy in Berlin have come to them with the censor stamp.

Germany has renewed navigation on the west coast of Norway. The Russian Baltic island of Oesel was raided by German flyers which threw twenty bombs upon Papschelm, the aerial depot, and set it afire.

A high French officer, who managed to escape from a German prison camp, says in a communication to a Paris paper, according to his observation the farmers in Germany are enervating money. What appeared remarkable to him was the plentitude of stock and draft animals on the farms despite the large military requisitions.

The commercial treaty between Germany and Rumania, which proves their friendly relations, has been ratified.

Of some 600 wounded in the German-American hospital at Oppeln, Silesia, who have been operated upon, only five have died, not even one per cent, as Dr. Fischer, of New York, the surgeon in charge, has told a correspondent. The same report comes from Dr. Friedrich Kuehmer, head of the G. A. Hospital at Bylau. Both hospitals were founded and are kept up by contributions from German-Americans in the United States.

On Monday the German minister of war, General von Hohenborn, spoke in the Reichstag as follows about the Verdun offensive. "It is not the last effort of an exhausted people, as our enemies want to make their people believe, but the sledge hammer blow of a strong and invincible people which has all the human reserves and means to give it the necessary weight until our enemies are struck down. This war will not be decided by speeches and phrases, but on the battlefield and by a firm will at home to hold through. Never before in the history of the world has a war been extended to the starvation of innocent women and children but for that very reason England will fail. Everything goes well with us on all fronts, and if our war statements are brief it is for the reason that truth does not need many words to explain itself. A look upon the map will convince you that our enemies know it but do not acknowledge it."

Falling in with Mr. McKinnis, the British secretary of finances reckoning, that the European war will last another year, Dr. Schwarz, the councillor of the German imperial finance department, says: "Conceding this and giving England another lease besides where will she be then? A skeleton of her former self, impoverished, shorn of her political and economic world influence, a second rate power."

Answering the German chancellor Mr. Asquith, the British premier, has declared that the Allies through the war mean to establish the principle of settling international problems by common consent of nations on equal footing and not by the dictate of militarism."

In peaceful Germany the Militarism was fought by the Socialists as an inner question, but when the life of the nation was threatened the Socialists under this very system of militarism took up arms as eagerly as all others did. There is no more militarism in Germany than there is in France, where a year before the war the strength of the army was increased one-third by lengthening the time of service on the call of Russia while Russia built out its strategic railroad system on the German frontier with France's hills, the interest on the loans still standing out.

Was this done to uphold the peace or to prepare for war? Germany guarded the peace of Europe for 43 long years by its so-called militarism, or military preparedness as we call it, even during Russia's war with Japan and the following revolution when it could strike to advantage and ought to have struck.

The "London John Bull", the most widely circulated paper in England, in its issue of August 3, 1912, two years before the outbreak of the British war on Germany, in commenting on the preparedness speeches of Mr. Churchill, First Lord of the Admiralty, and Admiral Beresford's "The certainty of the struggle in front of us," wrote "Germany can have but one objective in her naval program, the development of her trade to our disadvantage. That is why Mr. Haldane went to Germany and Mr. Asquith to Malta. Shall we wait until the smoldering industrial revolution has broken out or shall we strike to save ourselves, finding every man out of work a paying job in connection with the guarding of our shores and with our mighty fleet, either sinking every German ship or towing it in triumph into a British port?" Here is an honest confession of England's true motives and intentions for going to war. But so far everything has turned out very different than London John Bull has counted on.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver troubles and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids.

These pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold along the bowels and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids.

It is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place. Most headaches "follow" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lousy" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" the system, and how they "perk up" the spirits. At the end of the box. All druggists. Senior Banquet At Washington Hotel Was A Delightful Affair

With that joyous school spirit displayed on every side, 32 members of the Senior class, 4 Juniors, 2 Sophomores, 2 Freshmen and Prof. and Mrs. Clark Fullerton, enjoyed the Senior class banquet held Friday evening at the Washington Hotel. The banquet, like other events conducted by the Seniors, was carried out in every detail.

Promptly at eight o'clock the guests seated themselves at the prettily appointed tables and partook of the following menu:

Oyster Patties Celery
Essence of Fowl in Cups Water
Baked White Bass—Domestic
Potatoes—Parisian
Olives Sliced Tomatoes
Roast Chicken
New Potatoes
Asparagus—Hollandaise
Orange Sherbet Nabiscos
Grape Fruit Salad
Strawberry Short Cake
Cream Cheese Crackers

The place cards were little boxes containing a tiny rabbit, the ribbon colors being the class colors, pink and green.

Vance Alexander, president of the Senior class, acted as toastmaster and gave a short toast on "The Past." He told how the 1916 class has progressed from year to year.

It was the present class that startled the different kind of athletics, namely, field and track events, also literary work, debating and numerous other things which have been for the good of P. H. S.

Mr. Alexander then called on Mildred McAfee who gave a toast "To P. H. S." The toast was in the form of poetry and was a literary gem.

Lorin Cunningham was the third speaker, his toast being "The Future." Cunningham who has been a big factor in boosting the class and school spirit gave a fifteen minute talk filled with many valuable points. He pointed out the dangers confronting the class and the many hard bumps they will find suddenly bobbing up in their path. He told what the future has in store in the various fields of life, the business line, technical, teaching and college lines.

Vance Morris was next called upon for a toast "To the Faculty." The toast was in the form of a poem introducing Mr. Fullerton to the faculty.

Prof. Fullerton responded to the toast with a few well chosen words. He commended the class on the many splendid things they have done for the school.

Lois Wood gave a toast to "The Sweet Boy Graduates", the toast being in the form of poetry. Wm. Quinn responded in a like manner with a toast to "The Sweet Girl Graduates". Then followed short talks by other classmates. Louis Bannon gave a short toast on behalf of the Junior class. Earl Clayton, in the absence of President Harold Shumway, of the class, gave a toast on behalf of the Sophomore class.

The Freshman class had a representative present that certainly did honor to the class. Howard Lowry on behalf of the Freshmen gave a toast "Looking Up To The Seniors", a short talk that was eloquently given. He gave the Freshman's view of what the Senior class looked like and how his class has taken up the fine examples set by the present Seniors and expected to follow in their footsteps.

After the toasts the guests adjourned to the lobby where dancing was indulged in from 9 until 11:30, Davison's Trio furnishing the music.

Members of the committee were stationed at various places to receive the guests. The committee in charge was composed of Violet Mathiott, Elizabeth Huddleson, Helen Schoettle, Mabel Knott, Edna Korth, William Quinn, Vance Alexander, Ralph Appel, Vance Morris and Cranston Locke.

Stricken In Ball Park, Henry Straus Died On Way Home

Henry Straus, 50, prominent Cincinnati and tobacco dealer of Cincinnati, who had friends in this city, was stricken with heart trouble while in attendance at the Cincinnati-Chicago game Friday afternoon and died in his automobile on the way home.

Several Portsmouth people were in the grandstand when Mr.

Mr. Straus, who was one of the most popular men in Cincinnati, paid Portsmouth a visit several years ago and was much impressed with the hustling spirit in evidence in the River City.

WHY MUTT AND JEFF ARE ON A VACATION

Owing to a difference between publishers of the New York American and the Wheeler Syndicate, distributors of Mutt and Jeff, which has led to litigation, Mr. Bud Fisher has been forced to spend all of his time in court the past few days. This accounts for the absence of the Mutt and Jeff cartoon in today's issue of The Times as Mr. Fisher has been too busy testifying to attend to his clever characters. He will, however, have been assured, resume his sketching at once and the cartoon will return to its place as one of the features of The Times.

The Value of Good Eyesight

One of our greatest assets is good eyesight and yet, how often we neglect our eyes by not consulting an optician as soon as they begin to give us trouble.

In the majority of instances prompt attention would save us a lot of headaches and strained eyes.

It costs nothing to consult us, and if we can help you our charges will be reasonable. Better bring those "bothersome eyes" in and let our optician look into them.

STATE POLITICAL GOSSIP

(Prepared by Democratic State Press Bureau.)

Columbus, April 15.—Senator Candidate Harry M. Daugherty has disposed of farther pretension of the governor of Ohio for membership in the republican party. In a statement at Marysville, Daugherty said that "a real republican is a man who is proud of the record of Lincoln and McKinley and the achievements of the republican party and who courageously supported either the progressive or the republican ticket in 1912, etc." In 1912 Mr. Daugherty, then the chairman of the republican state executive committee, minced no words in expressing his opinion of the progressives whom he termed traitors, and said in an open statement that he did not know who Frank B. Willis, then candidate for congress, was supporting. He tried to find out but failing, resorted to the statement of ignorance. Willis did not utter a word, either orally or written, in that campaign to show for whom he intended to vote for president. Still he is now presuming to lay down party law for others. But Daugherty's Marysville speech coked him with that word "courageously."

"Get three well known Willis men in every precinct outside of the party committee." This message, brought out in the civil service commission's investigation at Columbus, is damning proof that the governor distrusts the members of his own party organization and is constructing his own personal machine. It was sent out to men appointed to office by himself. Also it puts an end to the preposterous claim that there is being no fight made on him by republicans. If not, why the mercenary army?

Denial is made by the Columbus Monitor, the only real and genuine official mouthpiece of the state administration in the state, that no appeal was made by friends of the governor for "single shot" voting at the delegate primary. It is quite evident that the Monitor is trying to smoke out which of the "boy scouts" it was who wrote the letter. Because it was written and is still in existence. Moreover it was written in the capitol and within speaking distance of the governor's private office.

Senator Harding complains that he is willing to stand by the president but the latter shifts too much. Pahaw! Harding, according to Senator Foraker's memories, can shift faster than a switch engine. In 1914 he declared for Foraker for senator and then ran himself. And in 1908 he declared for Foraker for president and inside of 30 days announced his support for Taft. Shift! Why he could keep up with the blades of an electric fan!

Let's see! Wasn't somebody named Burton announced as the Ohio republican candidate for president? What's become of him since Teddy came back from Trinidad and Harding was made chairman of the republican national convention?

In his address to a club at Ottawa Gov. Willis spoke in a mysterious way about the theft of a bill in the last general assembly and intimated that if the truth were to be told the state would rock from lake to river. Well, he can't scare anybody. The episode he talks about was fully ventilated at the time. The resolution of investigation which the governor said was suppressed to save a scandal was aimed at Speaker Charles L. Swain and was a partisan device to injure his reputation. The speaker welcomed action but the authors of the resolution never pressed it. The governor is fully advised of these facts and he knew that the play was a bogus one because one of his first appointments was that of Mr. Swain, whom he made trustee of Miami University. There was no bill stolen in the last general assembly and it will become the chief executive of a great state to go about deaning in unbecoming to that effect.

If the Willis "Boy Scouts" keep on with their work of political activity as they have been playing it they will have the wheels of the republican organization so gummed up that the blamed things won't run smooth for a great many years to come.

Will Attorney General Turner, who was so prompt to prosecute state employees for contributing to a party press bureau, now proceed against the state officials who have been violating the civil service law by compelling employees in the classified service to put out and spend their time and the state's money in making up a personal political machine for

Gov. Willis? Does it make a difference to him whose ox is gored?

The new head of the State Building and Loan department, Roy Silbaugh, is, as might be expected, a graduate of Ada college. More than that, he was head of the liberal organization which fought the dyes in campaigns in Lancaster and Fairfield county. The head of the government of Ohio is a prohibitionist but he is not a bigot, understand! He also graduated from Ada and won high honors in the "catch 'em coming and going" department. Hence he stands before the state as a dry with liberal tendencies.

Answer to Real Farmer.—The secretary of the State Board of Agriculture, George Stauffer, is an insurance agent and lives at Ottawa, the seat of Putnam county.

The good young governor is going to investigate civil service law violations. Don't everybody remember how he investigated the activities of his liquor license commissions? Shh and a hiss!

The Columbus Saturday Monitor recently denied that the Geiger-Jones company, dealers in securities, owned that worthy publication issued to aid in building up a Willis personal machine among civil service employees, in contempt of county newspapers and county committees. We apologize for even thinking of the thing. The last issue of the Monitor, in required ownership affidavit, says that J. S. Ralston, of the Ralston Steel Car company, owns all the stock. The Geiger-Jones company only owns Ralston.

George Stauffer, the Putnam county politician, who is now the state board of agriculture, the ten dummies composing it having abdicated and placed all the power in his hands, is now on the political stump. He is telling Ohio citizens that the admitted deficit in the state fair fund was caused by the agricultural commission's refusal to resign when the governor demanded that action. Yet his immediate predecessor, Renick Dunlap, took charge of the state fair upon being appointed in July 1915, and announced that it would be greater than ever before and cost less. He made a frightful mess of the affair and was forced to leave his office under fire with thousands of dollars of bills unpaid and the state's creditors clamoring for their money. If the old agricultural commission is to blame, why was it that Governor Willis ordered Dunlap discharged without benefit of clergy? Speak up!

"Pie is greater than poetry."—Gov. Willis. By cracky! Ain't this a gumswizzer of a campaign slogan for the champion gizzard eater, who refers to his opponent as "an insignificant little squirt!"

With the glaring evidences of nepotism permeating the state administration, with entire families of Ada graduates and Willis favorites holding most of the offices and "Clues" holding all the rest, regular republicans who labored in 1914 can only hope that things will be better for them next time.

Query.—Did Willis decentralize civil service? Ask Stoughton.

Columbus, April 15.—Saving money to the tax payers of Ohio, is the slogan of the present state administration. The fact that the taxes in some of the counties are increased on account of the improvement of the schools or the building of new roads does not alter the Willis plan. The governor has asked that money be saved in every department where it was ruthlessly spent before. These savings are going on in every department. While counties are building roads and school houses, the governor asks each department to cut its expenses to a minimum, in order that the tax rate will not be materially increased. There are a number of institutions which have joined the long list of money savers, one of which is that of the department of public printing.

In the office of the superintendent of public printing, thirty-nine per cent more work was done in 1915, at a total cost of sixteen per cent less than the record under the Cox administration in 1914. Here are the figures:

In 1914, Superintendent Harper handled 5,904,388 pieces of work, with a total expenditure of $183,138.63.

In 1915, Superintendent Cross handled 8,149,487 pieces of work, including 2,500 pamphlets, and the total cost was only $158,193.12. In other words, Mr. Cross saved $24,945.51, despite the increase of thirty-nine per cent in the volume of work. As a matter of fact, he installed $21,500 worth of new machinery at the state bindery, as recommended by his predecessor, the total cost of machinery and installation being $24,007.92, and still he had a balance in his favor as compared with his predecessor who installed no new machinery. The office comparison also is interesting. The cost under Mr. Harper was $32,294.85. Mr. Cross handled thirty-nine per cent more work and still decreased the office pay roll to $31,073.80. He has reduced the rent of the bindery, saving $2,900 a year.

The Eighth Congressional District (Harding's District) has gone on record for Burton for president, and for the Harding-Willis-Proctor-Sullivan big four as Ohio's delegates at large to the republican national convention.

Ohio is being complimented by republicans of other states in choosing for delegates at large, such men of national reputation as Senator Harding, who will deliver the "keynote" speech and act as temporary chairman of the republican national convention; Governor Willis, who will present the name of Hon. Theodore E. Burton, Ohio's favorite son and William Cooper Proctor and Hon. John J. Sullivan, representative republicans.

One by one the real names and character of some of the Cox appointees are found out, and in some instances the government has laid the stern hand of the law upon them.

Of all the shyster political tactics resorted to by a desperate bunch, to attempt to vilify a man, those concocted by the gang who are attempting to discredit Governor Willis take the lead. One day he is urging his friends to "single shot" in his behalf, and the next he is in a combination to beat the other candidates for national delegate. One day he is demanding of the colored men that they slaughter Tyler, and the next he has formed an alliance with him for the election of both.

As a matter of fact, they know he is doing neither. That he is assured of being elected as a delegate, as he deserves to be, and is making no effort in his behalf, whatever, being perfectly willing to let the republicans express their preferences at the polls without any persuasion from him, these shyster politicians know only too well. True, some of the governor's friends, resenting such misrepresentations, are making some effort to let the people know the animus of the attacks, as they have a perfect right to do. If there is one thing above another which the republicans should do at the primary, it is to resent this vilification at the polls and put their brand of disapproval upon such infamous methods, and they will do it. The governor should be given such a rousing vote as to show how republicans feel about such efforts to traduce men in responsible positions who are successfully striving to serve the people faithfully and well, and we predict that the result will speak conclusively of the high esteem in which the governor is held by the republican voters of the state.

We once heard a colored bishop deliver a most powerful address, in which he contrasted Victor Hugo with a modern southern writer. He said Hugo found his characters among the humblest, and sought to find the crushed flower in the meanest human breast and develop it till it transformed the whole man or woman, while the modern writer sought to find the tiger in the noblest human breast, and drew it out till it pulled the man or woman down.

The average political hackwriter thinks it his duty to look only for something to criticize and never anything to praise. The painter who would look only for the blemishes which he could enlarge and exaggerate would never enroll his name among the immortals, while even the mediocre who painted only the beautiful would attract attention.

Under the Cox administration, one Billy LaBard, alias George W. Oakley, was selected as one of the narcotic inspectors, under the direction of the State Agricultural Commission. LaBard, or "Oakley," as he was known the time he served, was recommended by the democratic boss of Lucas county, John O'Dwyer. He served under the board until a short time after George Stauffer of Ottawa was made secretary. Twenty days after Stauffer took office he asked for the resignation of Billy LaBard and received it. Nine days after that LaBard, or "Oakley," as he was known, was arrested by the Federal authorities for trafficking in narcotics. He is still in jail. He has already served one term in the Ohio penitentiary.

The case of "Oakley" brings to mind other appointees of the Cox administration, chief of which was Lattanner, the bank examiner. The people of the state are cognizant of the record of Lattanner. His earlier was a varied one and his handling of state banks is not a redeeming feature of the administration recently repudiated. One thing is shown clearly by these incidents, however, and that is the character of the political fabric of the Finley-Cox regime.

The present agricultural commission has saved the farmers of Ohio more than $50,000 on the cost of hog serum.

It cost almost half as much again to supply the legislature with pencils and other sundries when Pat Sandles was clerk of the senate.

Big Pike Landed

Dr. Frank Spencer, popular dentist, reports the first big catch of the season. While fishing at Camp Creek, Friday, he managed to land an eight pound pike after an exciting battle, during which it looked as though the fish would come off victorious. However, the dentist finally landed his pike-ship high and dry, and is receiving the congratulations of his friends. Davy Jones, however, absolutely refuses to doff his cap, claiming that an eight pound pike is nothing but a minnow compared to the big bass he hopes to land at Millbrook this spring.

FEEDS THOUSAND HEARS ONE TALE

Proprietor of Toledo's Biggest Restaurant Repeats Tale of Hundreds of Men

"About two months ago it started," began Clarence M. Babcock, proprietor of the big Cherry restaurant at 312 Cherry street, Toledo, O., where more than 1,000 Toledoans are served daily. "One customer after another would come in, give his order, and tell how good he felt. 'It seemed that from day to day I heard hundreds of men telling how well they felt—and proving it by their meals—and ascribing it to one thing—Tanlac. You see, there are more than one thousand customers every day at the Cherry. Most of them are pretty busy, but they have time enough to pass a good thing along. So they told me about Tanlac, and kept telling me every day. 'Indoor work and long hours had begun to tell on me pretty hard. I had to drag myself through the day's work. Kidney trouble was causing me fearful pains, I had no appetite and couldn't sleep, and the constant grind had affected my stomach, too. For four months I had been a fine example of the man who is 'all run down.' 'I had grown nervous and had lost twenty pounds in less than two months. I didn't feel as if I had energy enough to work a day through. I was irritable and far from being myself. 'There can be but one answer to this Tanlac story that's continued every day.' I decided. If hundreds of level-headed men come in here and praise Tanlac and say it has restored their appetites, toned them up, made them sleep and generally benefited them, it must be true. So I bought Tanlac.

"Now I am feeling just one hundred per cent better. I have a good appetite. My work looks good to me and I have the energy to take care of it. Customer after customer says to me, 'Clarence, what have you been doing to yourself that you have changed so?' And I like to hear it, and then I tell them I have been taking Tanlac. Get some, it's great.' Tanlac, the tonic, appetizer and invigorant that won this statement from a conservative business man, is being introduced in Portsmouth at The Fisher & Streich Pharmacy.

ANSWER FILED

Henry Ruel, proprietor of the Senate cafe, 418 Chillicothe street, filed an answer to the suit recently instituted against him by Frederick W. Mr. Ruel avers that he is rightfully occupying the building under the terms of a legal lease which expires June 30, 1920. He further claims that the plaintiff has collected the rent of $100 per month since the lease was renewed last summer and asks that the suit be dismissed.

TO GIVE MOCK TRIAL M'Graynor Traded

On Friday night, April 28, the Boy Scouts of Troup 5, of the German Evangelical church, will give one of their famous Mock Trials, the proceeds of which will go to defray the expenses of the troop's camping trip to Carter Caves this summer.

The trial will feature such notable characters as Mr. Harry Porter, Gooble Ribble, Harold Scott, and Frank Davis. This quartette alone offers an entertainment which is well worth the price of admission, which will be ten cents.

The subject of the trial is "A Day in Police Court." One of the chief cases to be tried is that of Mr. Harry Porter. Prof. Yenner, of the High School Faculty, will officiate as judge of the occasion. Howard Graf and Hobart Samson will be the prosecuting attorneys.

The trial is the produce of the pen of Mr. M. H. F. Kinsey, and this fact insures a good time and plenty of laughs for all that attend.

FATHER WON'T WORK; "HALF-WITTED" SON AND OTHER MEMBERS OF FAMILY NEED HELP

WATCH BABY'S EYES

Miss R. Foster, public health nurse from the State Board of Health, who was in the city Thursday and Friday and placed a Rarden baby in Hempstead hospital, is looking especially after babies afflicted with sore eyes. Before returning to Columbus she prepared the following for publication:

Neglect of babies' sore eyes may cause blindness. That is why the state passed a law which went into effect Aug. 20, 1915 by which all doctors must report any inflammation of the eyes of the newborn to the local health officer, who forwards such report to the state board of health. Failure on the part of the doctor to send in this report means a fine of $50.

The state board of health will furnish at its expense the services of a nurse to assist the doctor in caring for the afflicted babe. Many babies go blind each year owing to lack of prompt and proper care. It is estimated that the cost for keeping a blind person a life time is $10,000. Think what this means to the taxpayer and to the blind person whose eyes might have been saved.

Mothers, if your baby has sore eyes call the doctor at once.

FATHER WON'T WORK; "HALF-WITTED" SON AND OTHER MEMBERS OF FAMILY NEED HELP

The police officials were called upon Friday to give relief to the James Curgle family of New Seventh street, Earlytown, who were reported in a starving condition. Their appeal will be investigated although they had been ordered to leave town. The family originally came here on a shantyboat. They were next taken care of by Wesley Hall Mission and moved to a house near Tenth and Chillicothe streets. The father never works, say officials, and permits his half-witted son, John, better known as "Hickory" Curgle to roam at large. He was recently caught in a petty theft at St. Mary's church into which he had slipped unnoticed and a few days ago was made to give up a pair of overshoes he had stolen from a rear porch of the John Dice home on Second street. A younger brother was run over by Stahler Bros.' auto truck one day last week.

MILK WAGON STRUCK BY B. & O. S-W. ENGINE, DRIVERS HAD CLOSE CALL

While driving north on Hutchins street Saturday afternoon at three o'clock Louis DeLottell, a local dairyman and his brother-in-law, Jerry Semones, had a narrow escape from death beneath the wheels of a Baltimore and Ohio switch engine at the Tenth street crossing when they drove their milk wagon upon the track in front of the engine.

The engine struck the wagon amidship and scattered milk and debris along the tracks for several feet. In some uncountable manner, both of the occupants were thrown to the side of the tracks by the impact.

Half of the demolished wagon was dragged for several feet along the tracks while the other was thrown across the N. & W. tracks.

Semones barely escaped being thrown beneath the wheels of the engine when the collision took place. But with quick presence of mind he leaped to the cow catcher of the engine and clung there until the engine was stopped by the crew.

DeLottell claimed that a farm wagon which was coming south on Hutchins street obstructed his view and that he did not see the engine until he was directly in its path.

The official report from the Baltimore and Ohio officials is as follows:

"Extra No. 131, known as the Portsmouth-Hamden switcher in charge of Engineer O'Brien struck the DeLottell milk wagon at the corner of Hutchins and Tenth streets. The wagon was demolished and both occupants of the wagon were slightly injured. The occupants were Jerry Semones and Louis DeLottell."

"AS A MAN THINKETH IN HIS HEART SO IS HE"

(Freeman W. Chase)

"Keep the heart with all diligence for out of it are the issues of life."

Within you is a "holy of holies, the heart, soul, subconscious, eternal realm." Would you be master of your own fate, stand as a faithful sentinel at the threshold of this sanctum?

"Many clamoring demands press to its door for a hearing. Innumerable persons have no selection. They admit everything that knocks, respond to every call—good and bad, depressing and strengthening—all alike. They become footballs of circumstance, ineffective, unhappy. "How to have mastery—power to reject bad, to admit good—is the beginning of the science of life."

"The greatest man," said Seneca, "is he who chooses right with the most invincible determination."

And Carlyle: "A man is not strong who takes convulsion fits, though six men cannot hold him then. He that can walk under the heaviest weight without staggering, he is the strong man."

"The first principle of culture (synonym for power) is holiness, wholeness, soundness. At the base of this principle must be Resolved to the very Best. The sound soul, having selected right, hangs on with a holy doggedness, even unto smallest details; for 'pebbles no less than boulders, compose mountains.'"

"For the service of a sound soul the Universe will pay any price."

As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he."

"Thoughts make the man, but only when the thoughts reach the center of being, the inner kingdom, do they beget deeds. And deeds beget habit, and habit, character, and character, eternal destiny."

"Every crime was once a thought. A thought started the first war."

"Out of it, the interior, unseen world, are the issues of life." David, a murderer, and adulterer, Peter, a liar and curser, Judas, a traitor and suicide—all such are visible explanations of the invisible.

"But thought is also powerful to regenerate and glorify the earth. Out of the kingdom invisible, proceed language, literature, discovery, art, politics, religion, life everlasting."

"God's thought of love toward us personified. He taught the words of eternal life."

"He founded a church not a college. He commanded the church to teach all nations the doctrine of salvation, the principles of Christian living, the fact of a blessed immortality. The Egyptian taught religion from 'The Book of the Dead'. Our gospel is 'The Book of the Living.'"

"Herein is true heart culture. The Church of Christ stands as the only institution teaching these things. The New Testament is its text book. Its central thought is immortality brought to light in Jesus Christ."

"Through the church today hear him. 'Ye believe in God, believe also in me.' The soul of culture and power walks by faith. By a living faith behold a Saviour takes our place upon the cross and wins the right to take His place in our hearts. 'Enthroned Him in the kingdom of your mind, and you will draw all heaven unto yourself.'"

"Take your stand before Him and His church at the unchanging center of things, and the bright light of truth will fill the soul and flood the pathway of thought in every direction. Then life will become simple and luminous, a sunburst and a song of praise."

SUNDAY SCHOOL

Lesson III.—Second Quarter, April 16, 1916.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Acts x, 1-16.—Memory Verses, 13-15.—Golden Text, Rom. x, 12.—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

Leaving Peter in the house of Simon the tanner at Joppa (chapter ix, 40), we turn for a little while to the house of Cornelius, the centurion, at Caesarea, where we find a man who, with all his house, feared God, prayed to God always and gave much alms to the people (verses 1, 2). If religiousness and strictly were all that is necessary we would think that this man was truly a saved man, but when we read that the angel said to Cornelius that Peter would tell him words whereby he and all his house would be saved (chapter ix, 13, 14) we know that they were not saved until after Peter came and preached the gospel to them. Like the treasurer of the queen of Ethiopia, he was an earnest seeker living up to the light he had, and to such God always sends more light, but there is no salvation revealed in Scripture as a result of our good works (Rom. iv, 5; Eph. ii, 8, 9; Tit. ii, 4, 5). It is the blood that maketh an atonement for the soul, and without shedding of blood is no remission (Lev. xvii, 11; Heb. ix, 22).

Here, as in the case of the Ethiopian, the principal agencies used by God are an angel, the Holy Spirit and a man (verses 3, 19). The eyes of the Lord are looking over the whole earth for whole hearts toward Himself, and it is also written "Ye shall seek Me and find Me when ye search for Me with all your heart" (I Chron. xvi, 9; Jer. xix, 10). Cornelius was whole hearted, according to the light he had, and was certainly a sincere seeker after God.

The same Lord in heaven who saw the desire for light in the heart of the man in the church, saw it also in Cornelius, for he searches all hearts. So He sent an angel from heaven to the home of Cornelius, while he was in prayer (verse 30) to assure him that God had heard his prayers and recognized his aims (verses 3, 4). The ministry of the angels is always a most fascinating study. There are millions upon millions of them; they excel in strength, bear His voice, do His pleasure, go and come like lightning, minister to the saints (Rev. vi, 11; Ps. ciii, 20, 21; Ezek. i, 14; Hab. iii, 14). They seem easily to enter any house and any person and need no doors opened for them. We shall be like them in many respects by and by, but higher than they in the glory, for we shall be like Him.

The rest of the angel's message was that Cornelius was to send to Joppa for Simon Peter and learn from him what to do. The last we heard of Philip he was on his way to Caesarea, where he evidently lived Acts xii, 40; xxi, 8, 9), but perhaps had not reached home at this time. How easy to read that when the angel had delivered his message he departed (verse 7), but do we stop to consider that it meant returned to heaven, from whence he came a few moments before?

Cornelius was not slow to call two of his household servants and a devout soldier who waited on him continually, tell them all that had happened and start them off to Joppa.

Now we return to Peter, whom God had prepared to go with these men to the home of Cornelius, a gentile. As the three men were approaching Joppa, Peter went on the housetop to pray. He was hungry and would have eaten, but while something was being prepared for him he fell into a trance.

Was Raised On Gasoline

The many friends of "Johnny" Aitken, the Indianapolis race driver, believe that he is upon the verge of the greatest racing career of any automobile race driver since the cylinder sport became the vogue. Aitken was "raised" on gasoline at the factories where National cars are built at Indianapolis. He has driven in 24 hour races, hill climbs, speedway races, road races, and all the types and breeds of races that race promoters could think of, but greater than this has been his experience as the "brains" in the "pits" at such races as will be held at Indianapolis, May 30th on the motor speedway. Generalship on the side line, forms a most important part of the contest. A sample of this was when No. 8, National driven by Joe Dawson, won in 1912. It was Aitken in the pits who maneuvered the race for the National crew, to the extent that they raced Ralph DePalma off his feet. Again, when the Frenchmen came over in 1913, and could not speak a word of English, but put their case entirely in Aitken's hands, and thru code signals Aitken out-generaled all others, to the tune that Jules Goux crossed the tape first in his Peugeot car.

Niagara A Hill Climber

That Pittsburgh is regarded as good territory by automobile manufacturers is brought home by the establishment of new agencies for motor cars there. If a car can make good in Pittsburgh, with its hilly country, it is sure to go good almost anywhere in the United States.

The newest arrival is the Niagara car, selling at $740, with a reputation for hill-climbing. The Niagara car is manufactured by the Muttill Motor Car Co., of Buffalo, N. Y. Territory is rapidly being assigned to sub-dealers, though desirable territory is still open.

The Niagara car weighs 1,970 pounds, uses a 3 1/2 x 5 Lyeomg motor, Zenith carburetor, Remy ignition, Disco electric starting and lighting system with Willard storage battery, multiple disc clutch, three-speed selective type transmission, left drive and center control, full floating rear axle, 32x3 1/2 inch tires on demountable rims, semi-elliptic front springs and three-quarter elliptic rear underslung springs and has a wheel-base of 112 in.

Nicely Dodged.

"Sir," said the angry woman, "I understand you said I had a face that would stop a street car in the middle of the block."

"Yes, that's what I said," calmly answered the mere man. "It takes an unusually handsome face to induce a motorman to make a stop like that."

PETE HENDERSON, CANADIAN, ENTERS SPEEDWAY RACE

PETE HENDERSON, CANADIAN, ENTERS SPEEDWAY RACE

Pete Henderson steps across the boundary line of Canada to the States and crawls in behind the wheel of a "Made in U. S. A." car with his head full of determination to win the Sixth International Sweepstakes Race on the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, May 30.

Henderson is one of the youngest drivers in the game both in age and in experience, but neither has youth nor his limited experience deterred him from the ironclad vow to make veterans do or die. That he has pluck was shown last summer when one of his team mates gave up a race at Burlington because of axle trouble. Pete looked the car over, yes, the axle was in a weakened condition, but Pete realized that motor racing is a chance from start to finish, so he took the car and finished the race with a broken axle. With such indomitable courage as this Henderson's friends believe he is destined to be a star and expect great things from him at the wheel of a Maxwell at Indianapolis, May 30. Originally he was scheduled to drive a Duesenberg, but has since joined the Prest-O-Lite racing team that owns four Maxwell cars. The Maxwell cars are being finished at Indianapolis and Pete is hanging around impatient to get going in practice.

Nicely Dodged.

PAIGE CARS SHOW GAIN

The month of March showed the best record for manufacture and shipment of cars in the history of the Paige-Detroit Motor Car Co. The fact that during this month more Paige cars were produced than at any other time is significant in view of the rapid development and growth of this company and the fact in total volume of business it has made some phenomenal strides toward the top.

CASE "40" A THOROUGHbred

Many years ago there was a famous race horse known from ocean to ocean. His name was "Jay-Eye-See"—which were the initials of J. I. Case, the founder of the J. I. Case T. M. Co.

The owner of this famous horse was known as a man who loved thoroughbreds—a man who admired perfection. He was recognized as a master-builder of machinery.

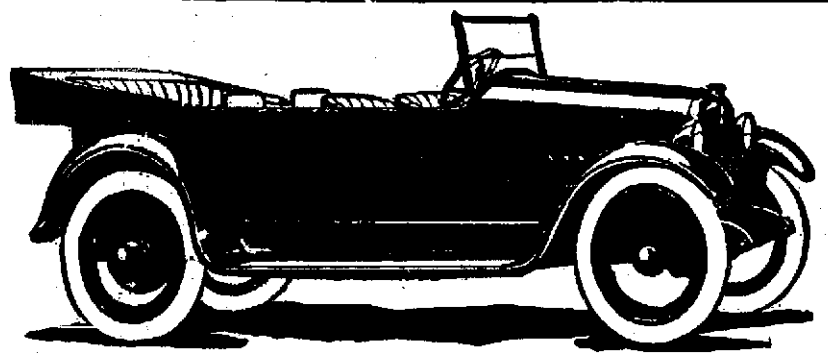

Like the noted "Jay-Eye-See", the new Case Forty is a thoroughbred, through and through. Mr. Case would today admire its rare beauty. Its long sweeping lines would bring back the vision of his earlier thoroughbreds.

Just as "Jay-Eye-See" was in a class of his own, so the new Case Forty is conspicuous for its excellence when compared with other cars at its price. Men in the past have bought Case cars because of their performances. Thinking men now will buy the new Case Forty because "The Name Behind the Car" gives them that assurance which is born of faith founded on demonstration. Long before the wave of caution, manifesting itself in the slogan, "Safety First," swept this country, we urged, and urged strongly, the policy represented by our watchword—"Better Be Safe Than Sorry." It is far better, we have always maintained, to buy the best at its price than to bargain on false, but alluring, economy. So today we offer you a car—a thoroughbred—built to perpetuate a name whose founder loved thoroughbreds—in men—in horses—in machines.

"THE SOUTH IS PROSPEROUS" CHALMERS MAN

Returning from a 30 days' trip through the Southern states, Paul Smith, vice president of the selling division, Chalmers Motor Co., brings reports of unparalleled business prosperity throughout the entire territory covered on his tour.

"Southern merchants, ranchmen and planters agree that conditions have never been better since Civil War times," said Mr. Smith, upon reaching Detroit. "Whether traveling through the broad prairies of Texas or in the heart of the cotton belt, we found evidences of prosperity on every hand, and the demands of our Southern dealers for cars indicate that a general share of the profits are being spent for automobiles."

TOMORROW'S CAR TODAY

Now comes the new Case 40. Born and bred in the midst of Case ideals, it looks forth as a car that is bound to carry the Case standard even higher and further.

While quite different—while lower in price—the new Case 40 does not plunge into eccentricities—it is designed for the substantial sort of men who is not swayed by passing innovations—the man who is cautious and wants a tried, reliable car. For 74 years Case executives and workmen have been building according to the Case standard—never leaving that straightaway path called Quality which has brought such world-wide reputation. The Case Cars are built entirely by Case trained workmen in the Case plants.

Our new Forty is a composite car—embodying all that is best in American and foreign motor practice, and welded together by Case experience.

"Friends of the Forty"

Everywhere are men who know the former Case 40—men who found it well worth $2300. These men particularly will welcome this announcement—for now they can recommend the new Case 40, with its obvious improvements, to their friends. Owners will tell of its serviceability—of its modest upkeep and how it resists depreciation. The splendid service of the former Case 40 can be expected of our new 40.

Inherited Merit

Our new 40 still has the basic engine that bestowed upon Case the title of "The Car with the Famous Engine." Yet there are many new features—many natural evolutions. So, more than ever, men may still place their absolute faith in this famous engine. Full power is there—likewise genuine simplicity, flexibility and economy.

As you go up and down the scale of prices, you can count on this car and the name behind it, as guaranteeing all that is sane and practical, a factor not to be overlooked in these days of innovations. For the car is deliberately built on a high mileage basis. We can justly call it the 100,000 mile car.

Surprises Await You

A peep at the new car discloses many new and exclusive features. To go over its superlatives is to be filled with wonderful admiration. See how the Cantilever springs are mounted on a ball-like seat on the rear axle—thus removing all side sway and pitching. Case spring features, together with low centre of gravity, gives a road-hugging car that smooths out ugly stretches.

The "Observation Car" arrangement of seats gives more room—highly real comfort for seven. Another innovation is removable upholstery—in real grain leather. Through-cut are luxuries usually found in cars costing double. The many, many features of this car can be but briefly outlined in the specifications below.

An Ovation is Certain

At $1090—over a thousand dollars less than our other 40—we offer this new Case 40—knowing that men who compare value closely and who look for long-lived cars will say, "Here is a car I must know." And we say, "The more you know of it the better."

GOODRICH ATTRIBUTES SUCCESS TO ADVERTISING

The growth of the B. F. Goodrich Co., which is the largest rubber factory in the world and produces over 20,000 different articles of rubber, including auto tires, bicycle, truck and motorcycle tires, hose, belting, packing, molded goods, raincoats, boots and shoes, water-bottles, and in fact "everything in rubber," is largely attributed to its progressive advertising policies. In fair weather or foul, Goodrich advertising has stood forth as prominently and continuously as Gibraltar.

The Goodrich Company have always been strong believers in advertising because they have seen their business multiply and prosper under the sun and rain of publicity. In no other way could they have told so many millions of people about the goodness of the Goodrich goods, in so short a time, or so economically. Their advertising has made people want rubber goods made by Goodrich, and what the public wants it gets, year after year. Today their great factories are at work night and day. Each year they invest more and more money in advertising and each year are forced to build and build to care for increasing business.

Reo Gets Big Order For Trucks

"Yes, we did get a big truck order last week," replied R. C. Hueschav, sales manager of the Reo Motor Truck Company, in response to a query. "But it wasn't a foreign order as the stock brokers reported."

"Our order came from the good old U. S. A., and while it wasn't all written on the same order form, it did come in the same mail Monday morning. Neither was it from Washington. It was from everywhere—and you'd never guess where the biggest part of it came from."

"When I looked over the morning's orders I exclaimed: 'What are they going to do, move Richmond, Indiana, across the border into Ohio, or what?' For Richmond, Indiana, had sent us an order for 12 2-ton truck in one batch."

DODGE CARS FIGURE IN INVASION

According to detailed advices now arriving from the border, Dodge Brothers' motor cars have played a prominent part in the invasion of Mexico in pursuit of Villa.

When General Pershing led his troops across the border he traveled in a Dodge Brothers' motor car, and four other touring cars were used in the transportation of supplies. These cars have, of course, been since supplanted in this work by the big trucks shipped to Mexico but the touring cars are still in use by the army.

According to the transportation department they have made wonderful records in the desert travel after the fleeing Mexican bandit.

Reporting on the performance of the Dodge Brothers' car that carried General Pershing on the first advance, an army officer said:

"We had practically to make our own roads and from what the Dodge Brothers' car showed on that trip I believe it could climb a wall. The car went through mountain passes and over places where it was necessary for the engineering corps to blast out a trail before the trucks coming after could get through at all."

FORD OUTPUT BREAKS RECORD IN MARCH

March broke all production records for the Ford Motor Co., with an output of 58,329 cars. Also March 25 saw the biggest day's production in the history of the company, 2,786 cars being built on that day.

When the Ford Motor Co. in August, 1915, launched into a production of 500,000 cars for the coming twelve months, an epoch in the automobile industry was marked. The contemplated output of the Ford factory represented a volume of motor cars equal to 50 per cent of all the automobiles in use at the time the announcement of the proposed production was made. In the eight months of the 1915-16 manufacturing year since August last the demand for Ford cars has more than kept pace with production and for the last several months the Ford Motor Company has found itself confronted with the same situation which has existed in previous years—the demand continually ahead of production.

This output of 58,329 Ford cars in one month means that the Ford Motor Company has not only increased its working force to the largest pay roll in its history, but added efficiency, as well, has been wrought out in every department. In one day the Ford foundry, which alone employs more than 3,000 men, poured 26 tons of metal.

Studebaker

See at our Salesroom the Car that DETROIT Likes Better than any other in the World

In Detroit where people KNOW cars, more Studebakers are in use than any other cars listing at more than $500.

This is significant.

For the simple reason that Detroit is the Home of Automobiles. More than three-fourths of the cars manufactured in the United States are made in Detroit.

In Detroit a BIG percentage of the residents are either directly engaged in the motor industry—or come into DAILY contact with people who are.

They talk cars. They study cars. They hear gossip from the great factories established in the city. They know the plants and the efficiency of the manufacturing organizations. They know the men back of the cars.

So when you know that for the entire year of 1915, registrations in Detroit showed MORE Studebakers in use than any other cars selling at more than $500, it can mean but one thing—that to the people of Detroit, people who KNOW cars and who KNOW VALUE IN CARS, Studebaker offers the top value of the market.

And this fact is all the more significant when you know that Studebaker has only been selling cars in Detroit for about half as long as its nearest competitors have.

In half the time, Studebaker has outstripped them all, and today you go to Detroit, and you find more Studebakers on the streets than any other make of cars costing over $500.

Be sure to see the new SERIES 17 Studebakers at the show—The Cars of the GOLDEN Chassis. . .

Why Agent Believes In Case Automobile

J. D. Bridges, local representative of the Case automobile, has a wheel base of 120 inches, a four cylinder motor with a 3.5-5 bore and a six-inch stroke. It is one of the best cars on the market, equipped with Westinghouse ignition, starting and lighting. The present car, which covers a period of more than a year, he has never had the machine in a repair shop. In fact, he has spent but 40 cents for repairs, and this was not necessary. He paid this amount for a few bolts that had become a little worn. Another remarkable thing in connection with his car, is the fact that he rode more than 3,000 miles without having so much as a puncture. In all he has driven more than 7,000 miles and is now using Agent Bridges anticipates the auto thrash of the original tires and apparently they are in elegant shape. The Case is equipped with a capable of carrying the car Cantilever springs, mounted on a through a long stretch of territory, built like sent on the rear axle, thus Mr. Bridges claims with a smile that the Case is a light traveler and disdains to pick up nails, etc. The Case car, which sells at $1,000, stretches.

LOCAL WOMAN'S FATHER KILLED AT COLUMBUS

Mrs. Grace Oakes, wife of Arthur A. Oakes, a well known N. & W. machinist, of No. 1845 Seventh street, was shocked by a long distance telephone message Saturday morning informing her that her father, Silas McWhirt, aged 69 years, had been instantly killed in Columbus Saturday morning.

Mrs. Oakes was so prostrated by the word that she did not press her informant for details, but feared that the accident occurred shortly after her father went to work at his place of employment, the Ralston Steel Car Company's plant. As he usually worked in the vicinity of a crane, it is thought that some heavy material probably dropped upon him, crushing him to death. He had worked at the Ralston plant for almost twenty years. Mr. McWhirt was a veteran of the Civil War. Besides his wife he is survived by eight adult children. They are: Ballard McWhirt, of Detroit, Mich.; Mrs. Homer Chandler, of Eckman, W. Va., who is a sister-in-law of Rev. C. M. Chandler, pastor of Bigelow Methodist church of this city; Mrs. Grover Simpson, of Columbus; Mrs. Grace Oakes, of Portsmouth; Misses May and Chloe and Carl and Robert McWhirt, at the family home, No. 1012 Long street, Columbus.

Mr. and Mrs. Oakes and young son Robert, left for Columbus on an afternoon N. & W. train. Small details of the accident are given in the following dispatch from Columbus:

"Silas McWhirt, aged 68, crane operator at Ralston Steel Car Co., Columbus, fell 40 feet from crane, chest crushed, died instantly."

CHAMPIONS OF NITRATE PLANT SCORE VICTORY

Washington, D. C., April 15.—With the big contest in the senate over the proposal to establish a government nitrate plant for the manufacture of explosives, disposed of by the adoption 43 to 22 of an amendment incorporating provision for such a plant into the army reorganization bill, debate on the measure was resumed today under the ten-minute rule. The fight over the proposal is not ended however. Final action will rest with a conference between the senate and house. A similar proposal was defeated in the house during consideration of its army increase bill.

The amendment was that offered by Senator Smith of South Carolina, providing a hydro-electric nitrate plant at a cost of $15,000,000, the expense of which would be met by a bond issue. It was adopted over the vigorous opposition of the senate military committee which was based upon the ground that the army bill was not the place for such legislation.

OXEN DRIVER SHOULD HAVE STAYED AWAY FROM MULE

Frankfort, Ky., April 15.—"The kicking propensity of a mule is a matter of common knowledge," held the court of appeals here yesterday in reversing a verdict of $500 damages awarded J. M. Pratt against the Consolidated Coal Co. From the testimony it appears that Pratt, an employee of the company, was kicked by a mule when he struck the animal with a whip as he stood behind it. "The mule would have been untrue to itself and false to every tradition of its breed if it had kept its heels on the ground," said the court, "and an employee cannot court danger by inviting a mule to kick him and then recover for consequential injuries." It was brought out that Pratt had never before driven anything but oxen.

Isn't the Other Fellow Getting All the Profit?

You have been a renter for years. What have you got to show for it? You have paid for a shelter, argued and bickered with the owner probably to make that shelter habitable and comfortable, put up with discomfort and annoyance rather than move and run the risk of new troubles in a new location.

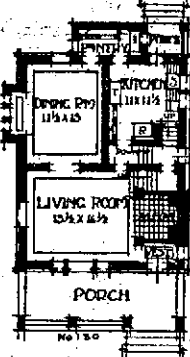

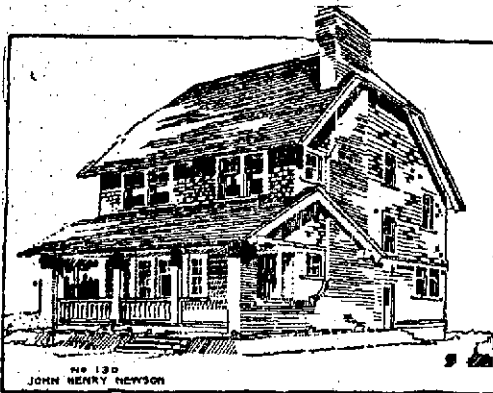

Home has been a make-shift. Merely a place to live, and all this time your rent money has been making a profit for the other fellow. What is the use of doing this when you don't have to? You can buy a home in Portsmouth by making a small payment down and paying the balance weekly or monthly the same as rent, or if you have a lot you can build on it and pay for the house the same as rent.

Our loan plan should be investigated by you before you borrow money. Call at our office or tell the real estate man that you want a Royal Loan. Insist on it and you will have the best.

Shingles and Wide Clapboards Home of Character No. 130 By John Henry Newson

This small house of frame construction is carried out in shingles from above the brick; the space between the eaves and foundation is first story windows. The chimney, porch, walls and foundation are rough red, top of the first floor finished with 10-inch strip lap siding. It is a splendid example of artistic effect obtained with inexpensive material. The plan is square and compact, while the unbroken roof lines take away the usual high-shouldered effect of a square house.

The fireplace and alcove at the end of the living room and between the vestibule and stairway are handsome features of the lower floor and give just the required effect to lift the plan from the commonplace.

The four bedrooms are large and plenty of closet space is provided. Upon close study, the completeness of this plan in all its details will be readily seen.

A variation of this design is shown under design No. 144, with an entirely different exterior and slight modifications in the floor plan.

No. 130 is 24x30 feet. Has been built for $3100, and at present prices would cost about $3500.

IMPORTANT FOR ALL THAT AND EVEN MORE!

The month of April has been set aside for the wiring of homes for electricity.

This is done in order that by a concentration of the energies and publicity of all those in anywise engaged in the production and marketing of electricity and its appliances there may be carried into every home in every city and village where there is current supplied the importance and benefits of this utility.

And something akin in so far as anything human can be akin to the Infinite, to the Almighty decree, let there be light, is this injunction of wire for electricity. The command to the rising sun brought light, life and happiness into the world, the injunction, wire for electricity, will bring light, comfort and pleasure into the home. For as the sun dispersed gloom over the globe so will electricity disperse darkness in the house. We have said it a thousand times and would like to say it ten thousand times, that electricity, or rather the adaptation of electricity, is the most wonderful and beneficent of all invention and progress. There is nothing to compare with it. It is both a joy and a good. In comfort, in ease, in convenience it is without a parallel, in the certainty and variety of its utility it has no equal. It never delays, it never so much as hesitates, it is instantly at command. A mere motion and it responds and sets diligently and tirelessly to its task. On its wings ride the light of day, its hands minister to cleanliness, order and health and do a thousand things that human hands can do not so well, or at all. And a thing not to be overlooked is that it is economical and safe. Yes, it is at once an economy and insurance. Nothing approaches it in attainment, nothing equals it in assurance. No building, no home can be altogether desirable without it. For is it peculiar in the apparently contradictory character that it is both a luxury and a necessity. It gives a brilliant attractiveness to the place of business, its sweet comfort to home, makes its tasks and duties light and pleasant.

If you are not already enjoying its comforts and its conveniences we would be pleased to talk to you personally about it.

Yours to serve,

MOLLY KING
IN
"A WOMAN'S POWER"

Beautiful "Molly King" at the Lyric Wednesday in "A Woman's Power". From the days of Eden a woman's power to sway mankind for good or evil has reigned potent and supreme. Her influence to raise to the heights or drag to the depths, however, has never been demonstrated with such blinding realism as in this screen drama, which strips the sham from human souls with a merciless hand. Beautiful Molly King by her wonderful acting in this gripping play has placed herself among the never-to-be-forgotten film favorites.

Richard Carle in "Mary's Lamb" Columbia Tonight

(Read what this Critic says.) When a stage favorite steps from his accustomed place before the footlights, to the screen, the first question that arises in the mind of the prospective spectator is, "Will he get over?" The expression, fraught with tragic suspense, has earned for itself so important a place in the dictation of the critic as well as that of his victim, that it ceases to be associated with what is known as slang, establishing a reasonable excuse for its use in the present instance.

Richard Carle "gets over." As the "lamb" in the above named production he is as funny as the funniest, and with Jessie Ralph playing opposite him coaxes a laugh at almost every turn. No somnambulist ever turned a cleverer trick than did Mary's "lamb" on his unwitting spouse, when she came upon the scene in the home of the widow next door, and the "lamb" did his sleep walk with as much fidelity as though it were a reality. Nor could there be a much more amusing tangle than the welcome given the pair of them in the insane asylum.

Donald Mackenzie, who directed the picture, is deserving of a great deal of credit for the able manner in which the play has been handled, as well as its adapter. There are no moments in the production that drag. The action of the play is sufficient at all times to keep interest pitched to a high point, and, although at times it treads on delicate ground, the comedy is never allowed to descend below the high water mark.

A competent supporting cast has been chosen for the portrayal of the various types.

Marguerite Leslie in "The Question" comes to Lyric Thursday

In "The Question," by Roy L. McCardell, which is coming to the next release on the Equitable program, there is a vivid presentation of the results which follow living the artificial life of the so-called society women. Dogs, dances, carous, receptions, take precedence over the joys of home and family, happiness is wrecked, disaster follows, but in the end the foolish woman realizes her mistake. Her awakening to a sense of what her foolishness has brought about gives an opportunity for some scenes of vivid dramatic intensity, of which the star, Marguerite Leslie, takes full advantage.

Five Part Feature at the Exhibit Theatre

A frontier story of frontier life, with love interest throughout the five acts, is told by "The Love Trail," from the celebrated novel by Richard Dehan. It introduces an actress of exceptional beauty and youth, Miss Agnes Glynne, who plays the role of Lynette Mildare, an orphan, thrown upon her own resources at an early age. Miss Glynne shares honors with Fred Paul, a wandering South African physician, and sustains interest throughout the entire play.

The setting of the story is in South Africa during the Boer war. With the death of her parents, Lynette was thrown into the hands of an unscrupulous tavern-keeper.

Interesting events follow which round out a play of tense interest. A big reel of rollicking comedy will complete a most interesting Saturday show.

At The Forrest

See Charlie Chaplin in another of his big laugh producers and one of the latest released Chaplin pictures. Charlie will be shown in addition to the regular program.

"For the Honor of the Crew" is a very pleasing three part Vitagraph drama that will be enjoyed by everyone. A big regatta day at Poughkeepsie is reproduced in this three reel drama without one detail lacking. W. P. S. Earle is the author and producer and his efforts are responsible for a very enjoyable photoplay.

"Black Eyes" is a rip-roaring Edison comedy, producing a line of fun and laughter that is out of the ordinary. See tonight's program sure.

At The Arcana

"Stronger Than Death" is a two-part Rex drama.

The girl marries her guardian, and when the latter is ill promises not to marry again after his death. There is a touch of the supernatural in what follows. The girl, while undergoing an operation, visits the vault with her dead husband and seeing him turn up her written promise. On her recovery the paper is found burned in the vault.

"Greed and Gasoline" L-Ko comedy. Gertrude Selby and Reggie Morris are featured as a young married couple who are victimized by two tramps. "When Three is a Crowd" is a side-splitting Nestor comedy.

At The Strand Theatre

Tonight's big program opens with the fourth episode of that remarkable serial, "Graft," and is designated as "The Power of the People."

This number treats of the efforts of the honest District Attorney to stifle the illegal practices of the grain interest.

"Elevating Father" is an L-Ko howler. Louise Orth, Ray Griffith and Dan Russell enact principal roles in this unusually farcical L-Ko two-reeler.

"Cinders," an Imp drama, is a delightful story of a waif, featuring Edith Roberts.

The concluding number is "As Fate Decides," a heart interest Laemmle drama.

At The Temple

"The Ring of the Borgias" is a four-part special Edison drama. Lola and Valaquez, two adventurers, are sorely in need of funds. They chance to meet Archibald Rivers, a banker, in a cafe one night, and begin to weave their web about him. Rivers has been entrusted with the care of Mary Morrison, an orphan, an da large fortune belonging to her. Donald Rivers' stepson meets Mary and they fall in love. Mrs. Rivers, Mr. Rivers and Lola die. Donald and Mary are left alone to recover her fortune, and to spend their days, wrapped in a love as powerful and unfeeling as the Cobra's venom in the Borgias ring.

"Counts" is a funny Vitagraph comedy with the counts producing the fun and laughter.

On next Friday evening the commissioned officers of the Woodmen Uniformed Rank will receive their commissions. This will be made an auspicious occasion by the lodge. Capt. Lesky Janetzky, Lieut. Lewis and Lieut. Charles Skidmore, are the officers.

CLEAN PICTURES GET THE MONEY

"What is the great demand in the motion picture industry today?"

That question was most concisely answered by William W. Hodkinson, president of the Paramount Pictures Corporation, distributors of the productions of the Famous Players Film company, the Jesse L. Lasky Feature Play company, the Oliver Morosco Photoplay company and Pallas Pictures, when he said:

"Good, clean and wholesome pictures; the best to be obtained from literature, art, science, travel and instructive matter."

SPEAKING EVIL

When people die and are beyond all earthly troubles and crises, then the rule is, "Speak no evil of the dead." But is it not worse to speak evil of them while they are alive, while the evil word can wound or injure them? Why wait to be kind until it is no use whatever?

"PREPAREDNESS" ORDERS COME FOR COMP'Y K

Want More Men To Fill Ranks; Will Not Be Obligated Unless Call To Arms Comes

Lieut. Joseph Horehow, of Furniture Company, Gallia street, Company K, Ohio National Guards, ranking officer of the company, Saturday morning received orders from Col. Harry D. Knox, of the Seventh Regiment, Marietta, requesting him to "conditionally" recruit the local company to full war strength at once. The conditional enlistment means that those who enlist will not be called upon for duty unless the local company is ordered to report for war duty.

"We would like to have twenty additional men at once," said Lieut. Horehow, "who would be willing to enlist under the conditions named by the commanding officer at Marietta. We would prefer single men between the ages of 21 to 25 years."

"Our prospects for being called for duty are very good," continued the speaker, "for the Adjutant General at Columbus has received instructions from the war department to get the Guards in readiness for service."

"The strength of the local company, counting commissioned officers, is about sixty-five men. The company is in shape for service, should they be called."

These desiring to enlist under the provisions made by the departmental officers should see Lieut. Horehow, of the Horehow

OTTINO LANDS IN NEW PLACE

Elmer Ottino, a former Portsmouth boy, who was recently released from the State Automobile Department, Columbus, for failing to take the civil service examination, was appointed Confidential Agent to the State Liquor License Commission, Saturday, by Governor Frank B. Willis and has assumed his duties.

Mr. Ottino, it is stated, was recommended by the local Republican County Executive and Central committee and every other county organization in the Tenth district. He was also recommended by Senator W. D. Tremper, Representative William R. Sprague and Congressman Charles Kearns.

Mr. Ottino received a conditional appointment in the State Automobile Department last August and assumed his duties in September. Last February he failed to take the civil service examination, owing to a misunderstanding, and was compelled to leave the department on April 1. Friends in Columbus immediately urged him to enter the employ of the Liquor License Commission, and he came to Portsmouth to confer with the local political leaders about a recommendation.

Friday afternoon Mr. Ottino was notified by Governor Willis that he had been appointed confidential agent to the State Liquor License Commission at a salary of $100 per month and expenses.

In a communication to local friends Saturday, Mr. Ottino stated that he deeply appreciated the interest shown by the Scioto County Republicans in his behalf, and said that he would have never been appointed had it not been for their solicitations.

Ben Hurs Take In 18 New Members

Eighteen persons were taken in by Portsmouth Court, Tribe of Ben Hur, and twelve new applications were received at the regular weekly meeting Friday night, bringing the total membership of that order close to the 100 mark.

The candidates initiated were the following: Fred and May Smith, Nellie Ellis, William Shreuberry, Minnie Riggs, Walter McCoy, Phoebe Taylor, Ed Martin, William Royal, Clyde Ellis, C. H. Davidson, Emory Clark, John Velcher, A. R. Pyle, Arthur Fultz, May Davison, Mary Shaw and Leona Noel.

Deputy A. A. Uhles and several members of the newly instituted court at Fullerton, Ky., were guests of the Portsmouth court, which enjoyed a social session at the close of the degree work.

Mr. Turley Tells About Extensions At The Steel Plant

Considering the amount of business transacted in a brief space of time, your reporter had a very full report of the proceedings of the New Boston council Thursday evening in matters pertaining to the Steel Company improvements.

But there are two or three facts which did not get right. Any one familiar with the situation would recognize this, others would not.

No figures were given by me as to the actual number of employees, present or future. Forunately Mr. Glass and others present at the meeting know this.

As a matter of fact the present number of employees ranges from 1,800 to 1,900. It is also a fact that the use of "hot metal" direct from the Blast Furnace to the Steel Furnaces as against "cold pig", does, automatically, increase the possible capacity of the mill, as it stands today, about 40 per cent, without new additions to it.

The immediate plans of the mill proper are for one blast furnace. The plans will be so drawn that a second blast furnace can be added if the company prospers and desires to build the second one.

Julian Kenedy, the foremost blast furnace engineer of the times, is making these plans. Likewise the plans will contemplate the building of by-product coke ovens at some future day if found advisable to build them. The second blast furnace and by-product plant plans depend to a great extent upon whether the Lakeside and other options are at prices to make the costs of same within reasonable limits.

The short extension of a street within the corporate limits of New Boston is not near the spillway but is only across the north head of the lake at Stewartsville, New Boston.

There will be no further change in the location of the new office building so far as I know anything about it.

Oratorical Contest Is Being Arranged

Arrangements are being made for an oratorical contest which will be staged between Ironton and Portsmouth high school students. The contest will take place the latter part of May on the evening before or on the evening of the track meet which is to be held by these two schools.

Each school will be represented by two students. The contestants are to write their own speeches. A trial contest will be held at the high school next Friday evening. There will be about five contestants. Each contestant is to talk fifteen minutes. This will be the first time a contest of this kind has been held by Portsmouth and Ironton. The talent displayed by local students in the P. H. S. Huntington debate has caused the local students and teachers to manifest great interest in the literary contests.

ED NUGENT IN THE CITY

Ed Nugent, a well known showman, is here visiting home folks, preparatory to taking the road with the O. L. Reilly Carnival Company, which will open its season at Williamson, W. Va., April 24th. Ed is looking well and prosperous. He put in the winter dividing his time between Pittsburgh and Washington. His show includes such attractions as the biggest baboon in captivity, Florida alligators, a three-headed calf and the mummified body of Joe Johnson, the negro arch-murderer of Louisiana.

Ed's brothers, John and Jim Nugent, are also still in the show business. John is with the Kennedy shows now touring Georgia, and Jim will shortly assume the management of the Frisco Park at Denver, Colo.

BREAKS PROMISE; WOMAN WILL GO TO WORKHOUSE

John King took Mag Huffman, a woman arrested by Sheriff E. W. Smith early Friday morning for the Lawrence county authorities, to Ironton Friday. She was indicted at the last term of the Lawrence county courts for keeping a house of prostitution in Ironton and upon a plea of guilty was fined $100 and costs and given a six months jail sentence. Upon promise to quit living this life and payment of $10, the remainder of the fine and sentence was suspended. Judge E. E. Corn learned that she was violating her promise in this city and ordered her arrest. She is now confined in the county jail at Ironton and will have to serve the six months sentence.

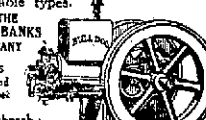

BROTHER OF LOCAL WOMAN EXPECTS TO BE SENT INTO MEXICO SOON

Mrs. Harry B. Maupin, of 1118 Second street, is in receipt of a letter from a brother, Sergeant Stanley H. Sheils, formerly of Caledonia, Ky., stating that he is momentarily expecting to be sent into Mexico for active service. The Seventeenth U. S. infantry regiment of which he is a member was still stationed at Eagle Pass, Texas, at the time his letter was written. Sergeant Sheils became a regular during the Spanish-American war when he saw much active service and has remained in the army ever since. He was on the island of Samar at the time a company of American soldiers were massacred by moros. He has since served several foreign enlistments.

MEETING A REQUIREMENT

Anticipating that enlargement of the steel plant will bring many more men to this locality, thus increasing the demand for homes, local capitalists have bought the large tract, known as School Land Hollow, just east of the north end of Millbrook lake and will divide it into lots and offer these for sale to prospective residents. Their undertaking promises to meet, what has so long been an acute need in this vicinity, cheaper land and so cheaper homes. As we understand the plan, the lands have been secured at such a price that acre lots, into which it will be sub-divided, can be sold at a nominal figure as measured hereabouts. This will afford space for a house, chicken yard and garden patch, thus affording employment, both diverting and profitable for what might otherwise be idle periods.

It is not the province of these columns to "hoo" real estate projects, but this seems to so fairly meet a requirement of the time and the place that has heretofore been so lacking, that we are impelled to commend this particular one, in the hope that we may confirm the gentlemen in their already formed purpose to engage in a laudable enterprise that will be of peculiar benefit to the community and yet return them moderate and only moderate profit.

Columbus is having her annual discussion over whether she will spend $100,000,000 for a flood defense system or be content with an ordinary $25,000,000 affair. And as usual the discussion will be carried on without tangible result until the next flood or flood scare causes it to break out with renewed virulence. In the meantime, of course, the thrifty gentlemen who are always to be found very much present upon such occasions, will continue to draw down their easily earned and highly remunerative salaries.

Our young niece says that if there is anything in her educational course that she highly approves of, it is the penny savings plan, for of course when school is out and there is no more chance to save, they will have to pay it all back in one big pile and that will mean one grand blow-out when we go on that little trip to the mountains she has planned and mapped out for us to take this summer.

United States Senator William E. Chilton, of the dry and imperial state of West Virginia, made a speech at a "home coming" that was given in his honor at Charleston the other night, and we have a suspicion after reading his remarks that the senator is rather popular with himself. Thus he pointed out their duty to his fellow citizens in this language: "The reason why the lamb loved Mary is a reason why you ought to love me. If I can get but one-half of my devotion to this section, in return, this year, I will have many such greetings as this."

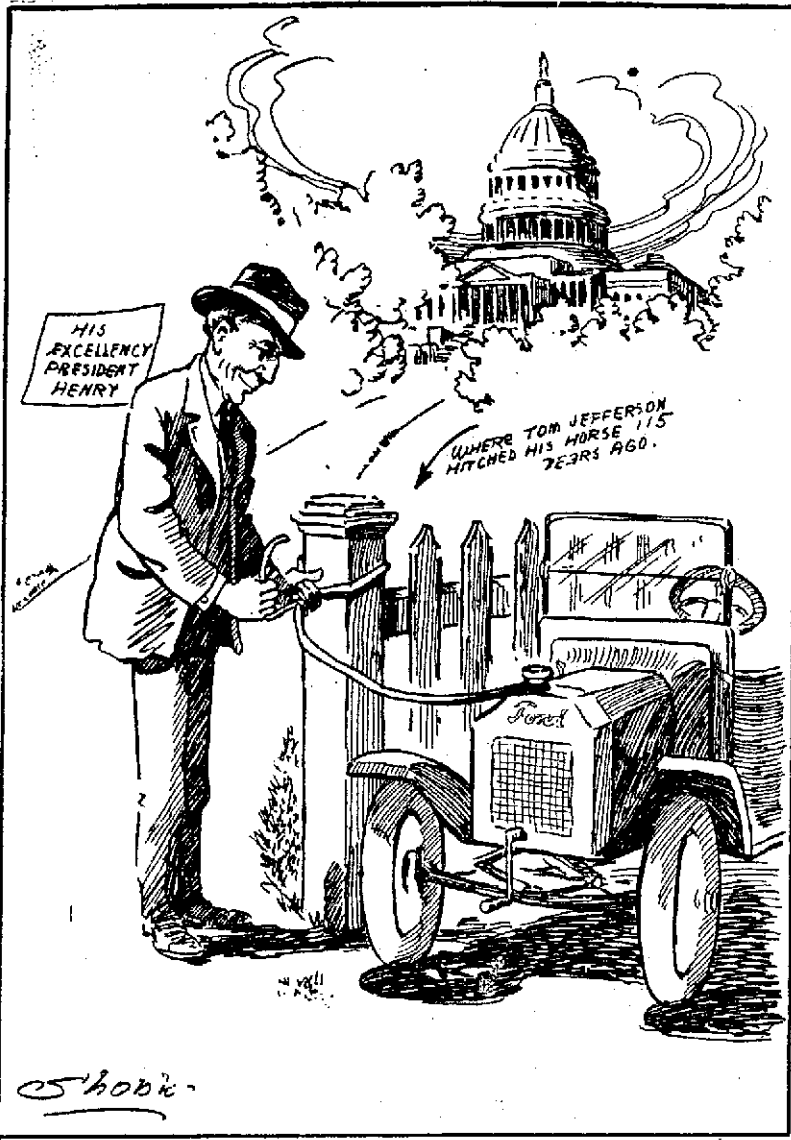

After reading the daily bulletins about the struggle for Verdun, we find much relaxation these April nights in reading about the ancestors of these same fighters of the "Old Stone Age" who lived and loved and fought and died on the same territory something like 125,000 years ago. On the whole we rather admire the Stone Age men's methods a little better than those of our modern men. The Stone Age boys got out in the open with clubs and stones and oftentimes they came together, great bodies of them, with no better weapons than their fists. Then too, they would occasionally pick out champions and abide by the victory or defeat of their chosen ones. We suspect that these men of 125,000 years ago would have held up their hands in horror-stricken amazement as they related the barbarism and savagery of their descendants could they but have witnessed one of our modern battles with its machine guns, shell and shrapnel and chlorine gas.

East Liverpool is going to vote on saloons under the Beal law on May 6th next. There has been constant discussion in the town ever since saloons were voted back a couple of years ago, and the election this time may be considered a fair trial of strength between the friends and foes of Demon Rum. Both sides are well organized and a contest of unusual bitterness is expected.

Richard Harding Davis, in his younger days, was always a favorite author of ours. We do not recall having read anything that we more thoroughly enjoyed than his Gallagher stories and his Van Bibber stories. So too with some of his tales of adventure, improbable and bombastic as they sometimes were. But we agree with the Cincinnati Times-Star that when Davis abandoned the style in which he was a pioneer and in which he excelled, and became a Kipling imitator, he lost much of his strength and his charm. Had he kept on in the style of his earlier efforts he might finally have written something that would be long remembered as a classic.

The president of a Richmond, Va., walking club says that girls' skirts can't be any shorter and Virginians are thus denied further emotions.—Charleston (W. Va.) Gazette.

IF MICHIGAN WERE THE UNITED STATES

Carranza asks that American troops be withdrawn from Mexico, but the natives are doing the very thing that makes certain their staying there.

Strikes us Cincinnati comes the nearest to being a village base ballistically than any other league member on the map. When its team loses, it is worse than a lot of sanderals, when it wins it is immediately transformed into champions.

In a week the Excelsior shoe factory will be increasing its biggest output heretofore by quite twenty per cent. There isn't anything more gratifying than noting the growth and prosperity of Portsmouth's old industrial stand-bys, the shoe plants.

With five members of the board of education asking for an investigation of charges made against them by a sixth, it would seem Cincinnati politicians are getting squeamish in conscience.

Readily and quickly has New Boston granted the new demands made upon it by the Steel Mills Company. There is nothing like giving gracefully and 'tis said the Lord loves a cheerful giver.

It is not the most pleasant thing in the world to hear that at least two hundred thousand dollars will have to be spent on the water works to get a satisfactory and safe service.

And now the city is building a new wall to stop the slide from the hill along Gallia pike. And as yet the conundrum of why Gallia pike was cut down remains unsolved.

Two farmers were before the board of county commissioners this week, asking that they lay the best brick road that can be built. It is things like this that show Scioto county is not waking up, but is already fully awake.

Funny how things run. For about a week bunches of people have been telling us what a wonderfully fine paper The Times is. Next week, according to experience, there'll be other bunches swearing we ought to be run out of town and threatening to see that we are.

As yet we see little visible and outward sign of that stiff fight the Daugherty and Herrick factions were going to put up for the vote of Scioto county. So far John Reilly is about the only one making any noise and even he seems to be at it only half-heartedly.

It is well enough and proper to jubilate over the expansion, projected for the steel mills, but there will be more than a little regret that it means the eventual, even may be the early, extinction of Millbrook park, one of the fairest spots over which the laughing moon ever rode.

SUNDAY THOUGHTS

Sunday in the city with its fine display and show—Ain't it diff'rent from the Sunday that the country people know! Different—oh, so different!—is its hurry and its rush, from the simple, holy silence and the God-inspired hush Country folks remember, who have up an' moved 't town. An' it makes us sort o' lonesome-like when Sunday comes aroun'; Luggin' in your fashions, an' your doin's seems so odd, Like a wordly grant 't Satan an' a compromise with God.

Sunday in the city! Why, there's nary bell nor chime That a man can tune his heart with when it comes 't meetin' time! Not a sound, I reckon, turnin' wordly thoughts away, Makin' Sunday any different from most any other day! An' your city 'meetin'! Do y's s'pose your hired choir Sings their music any sweeter or their anthems any higher Than the village singers who are any volunteer? Do y' s'pose that God don't listen 'cause they only sing by car!

Sunday in the country! Can't y' hear the meetin' bells Ringin' out upon the mornin', and the message that each tells? How the feast is waitin' an' the holy bread is broke An' the spirit waits communion with the honest, simple folk! Can't y' hear th' singin' an' the long endurin' prayer, An' the lazy bees a-dronin' through the open windows there? Can't y' see the parents with their young 'uns in between Can't y' hear the swish an' rustle of some ancient bombazine?

City an' the country! Oh, we've always been apart! An' it ain't so much, I reckon, in the standards of our heart As it is in habits; why, I believe we both are good An' we'd like each other better if we only understood. I ain't criticism' how you keep your Sabbath days, For I 'spose the Lord considers that it's city folks ways But I can't help a-thinkin' you'd be glorified and blest By a Sunday in the country with its holiness an' rest.

—John D. Wells in Woman's World for May.

Strikes us Alan Jordan is pretty much the right sort of a citizen. He favors the raising of the "Y" tow path to fifty feet. True enough he has a valuable farm across the river, but it would be more to his interest, in so far as that investment is concerned, to have the main tow path, which leads almost up to his gate, raised. Going further he offers practically for nothing, all the material that may be needed to raise the "Y", and yet a point beyond that will give the county all the land necessary to build a new causeway and the land to straighten out a crook south of Union Mills, that is absolutely of no consequence to him. A good many men would be figuring on just how much they could get out of the material, which will have to be got from his quarry land and doubling the price, and quadrupling the damages on the half-acre required for changing the road—and the land is worth at least $200 an acre.

NEW-YORK-DAY-BY-DAY.

O-O-McINTYRE.

New York, April 15.—The skating craze, which was heralded as the greatest rival of dancing, seems to have died in its infancy. The slump was expected naturally when warm weather came, but it arrived in the midst of a very cold spell.

A month ago the craze had reached its height. No one ever dreamed that the Biltmore rink would be closed before March 1, because of slackness of patronage, but it was. And the St. Nicholas rink has such a greatly diminished patronage that it has reduced its prices.

The Broadway crowd, which cares nothing for money, never was very enthusiastic about the sport. They did not find it as easy and pleasant a sport as dancing. It was entirely too strenuous. Women who have to look out for their beauty think of those things.

Vida Whitmore, one of the Broadway beauties, who is no longer quite an ingenue, discovered that skating made circles under her eyes. Right there the tinware rattled for skating, so far as she was concerned, and many of her sisters followed her example.

New York has an old dramatic critic in H. Newkirk Clugston—a sort of free lance critic without any special newspaper ties. He just sells his criticisms to whoever will buy. He used to have inscribed on his business cards: "Investigateur des Crimes Dramatiques."

Now he has changed his card to read: "Dramatic Bookworm." On the back of the card appears this: "Owing to the prevalence of the bookworm in this country, and the careless thinking of the majority of Americans, the following admonition seems requisite. Do not confuse the plump brunettes with the ankylostoma duodenata. We are the bookworm." Clugston has the added distinction of bearing a startling resemblance to William Shakespeare.

Joel has enlarged his all night restaurant back of the Metropolitan.

Joel's real name is Joel Rinaldo and he is a queer figure in the night life of New York. He is thin and blonde and studious looking and his place is the rendezvous of artists, great and near, writers of the same degree, and the riff-raff of Broadway.

Joel courts the patronage of writers and artists. He loans them money when funds are low and wants them around all the time. He secretly has an ambition to write and to write high-brow books. One of his books he published himself—others would not.

Carlo Fornaro, the caricaturist, is one of the persons always seen at Joel's, and General Coxey, of Coxey's army fame, always hangs out there when in the city. And there is Vicky, the drummer with the enormous teeth, Rose, the emaciated pianist, who lives on Bermuda onions, and the fat harpist, who will not take more money elsewhere, because she loves the "atmosphere" of the place.

There is with the business trend northward in New York a change in the hotel popularity. Just a few years ago the hotels in the vicinity of Herald Square enjoyed wide popularity and it was only necessary to have it filled.

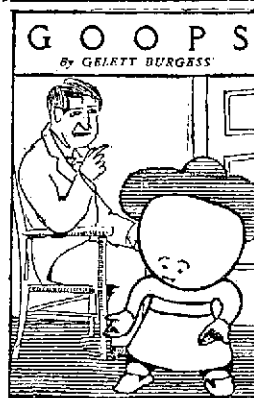

With the exception of the Waldorf and the McAlpin, it is said that the hotels below Forty-Second street have steadily lost patronage. While the Hotel Majestic and Ansonia, long losing propositions, have suddenly blossomed out in a startling way as the center of hotel activity.

The Majestic has three separate cafes filled all the time. It is predicted that if the sweep updown continues the next big hotel will be built at 110th street—although there will be no need for it for many years to come.

While you to your handkerchief manfully sling, And vainly try some comfort to bring

To your mournfully stricken soul. Your dear friends will faithfully try everything

On you as a cure for the cold. You find that relief time only will bring,

For the cold germs still whistle and gleefully sing, Still working your nose like a wet weather spring.

Then—presto! 'tis vanished, the cold.

SECOND CLASH AT PARRAL? PERSHING SILENT 3 DAYS

NO NEWS FROM THE AMERICAN LEADER IN MEXICO; SECOND PARRAL CLASH RUMORED

BULLETIN

Washington, D. C., April 15.—State department dispatches from El Paso, today refer to unconfirmed reports of a second fight with American troops at Parral. General Funston today telegraphed the war department that he had not heard from General Pershing for three days. Secretary Baker said that General Funston was urging General Pershing to rush a report on the Parral incident.

Washington, D. C., April 15.—State department officials today were prepared to set in motion diplomatic machinery for a decision with General Carranza over his proposal for the withdrawal of the American troops from Mexico. While the negotiations are under way, the hunt for Francisco Villa will continue.

A report from the commander of the American cavalry attacked by Mexican natives at Parral, is anxiously awaited. It is expected to throw light on the fate of the little force and to clear up the conflict of information regarding the attack.

The Carranza version is that his troops did everything to stop the firing upon the Americans. Unofficial advice, however, asserts that Carranza soldiers participated in the attack.

Apparently the immediate withdrawal of the American forces in Mexico is not contemplated. It is understood that the success of the defection government in demonstrating its ability to hunt down Villa, in event the American expedition is recalled, would be of great weight with President Wilson in reaching a decision regarding the matter.

President Wilson had before him today several messages from Major General Funston. They were presented to him by Secretary Baker at a midnight conference last night. The secretary's visit at such a late hour attracted considerable interest, although he declared afterward that no significance could be attached to it.

U-BOAT MISSED; STEAMER ESCAPES

London, April 15.—The steamship on which Baron Chelmsford, the new Viceroy, and Governor General, was proceeding to India, was unsuccessfully attacked by a submarine, which fired a torpedo but missed its aim. Lord Chelmsford was accompanied by his wife and his four daughters and the steamship had on board an unusual number of women and children.

INDIANS AMONG THE AMERICAN SCOUTS IN HUNT FOR VILLA

Probably the most serious figures in the expeditionary force hunting for Villa are the Apache Indian Scouts, some of whom took part in the pursuit of Carranza in 1915. The most famous of these is old Ed Is-bendo, who knows the Mexican country and who understands the Indian language of the border. The other men shown in the photograph are also scouts with General Pershing. They are led by Charles E. Soper, Jr.

U-BOAT FACTS TO BURTON ON BE SENT TO BERLIN

Washington, D. C., April 15.—The United States government today was ready for its next step in the crisis with Germany over submarine warfare. This was the preparation of a communication to be sent to Berlin designed to bring the situation to an issue.

The communication will go forward within the next few days. The impression prevails here that it will not be dispatched pending a careful examination of all the evidence at hand regarding recent submarine cases, including affidavits in the case of the English steamer Sussex which arrived yesterday. Indications are, however, that the case against Germany is complete without the latest affidavits and that Germany will be informed that the Washington government considers she has not fulfilled promises made to this country.

AMERICAN PEOPLE ARE WORLD'S LARGEST DRINKERS OF COFFEE

Washington, April 15.—The American people, the world's coffee drinkers, actually consume forty per cent of the coffee sold in the International markets, according to figures announced today by the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce. More than one billion pounds of coffee came to this country last year.

Germany normally is second in coffee drinking, but the war cut off her imports last year and made France second with receipts less than one-fourth as large as America's purchases. The entire United Kingdom consumes only one thirty-fifth the amount of coffee drunk in the United States. The United States ranks third in tea drinking with the United Kingdom first and Russia second. One-fourth of all the cocoa produced in the world finds its way to the United States. Coffee im-

ARTILLERY IS ACTIVE ON VERDUN FRONT

Paris, April 15.—There was no infantry fighting in the Verdun region last night. French positions between Malancourt wood and Hill 304, west of the Meuse, were subjected to heavy bombardment and there were lively artillery exchanges near the western edge of Corbeaux wood. East of the river an intermittent bombardment was carried on.

OXEN DRIVER SHOULD HAVE STAYED AWAY FROM MULE

Frankfort, Ky., April 15.—"The kicking propensity of a mule is a matter of common knowledge," held the court of appeals here yesterday in reversing a verdict of $500 damages awarded J. M. Pratt against the Consolidated Coal Co.

From the testimony it appears that Pratt, an employee of the company, was kicked by a mule when he struck the animal with a whip as he stood behind it. "The mule would have been untrue to itself and false to every tradition of its breed if it had kept its heels on the ground," said the court, and an employee cannot court danger by inviting a mule to kick him and then recover for consequent injuries. It was brought out that Pratt had never before driven anything but oxen.

CHAMPIONS OF NITRATE PLANT SCORE VICTORY

Washington, D. C., April 15.—With the big contest in the senate over the proposal to establish a government nitrate plant for the manufacture of explosives, disposed of by the adoption 43 to 22 of an amendment incorporating provision for such a plant into the army reorganization bill, debate on the measure was resumed today under the ten-minute rule. The fight over the proposal is not ended, however. Final action will rest with a conference between the senate and house. A similar proposal was defeated in the house during considerations of its army increase bill.

The amendment was that offered by Senator Smith, of South Carolina, providing a hydroelectric nitrate plant at a cost of $15,000,000, the expense of which would be met by a bond issue. It was adopted over the vigorous opposition of the senate military committee, which was based upon the ground that the army bill was not the place for such legislation.

SKULL AND CROSSBONE ON BILL, POLICE CLUE

FRATERNITY TEAM HANDS BEATING TO P. H. S. FIVE

That the Portsmouth high school basketball team is composed of championship caliber was shown Friday evening in the local gym when they held the Phi Si Fraternity team of Ohio Wesleyan University of Delaware, O., to a score of 40 to 36, the locals coming out on the small end.

The Red and Blue lads gave the experienced college lads a tough battle. It was a real battle and the fans had the pleasure of seeing a genuine college brand of basketball.

The local lads did well to come out alive after playing forty minutes at the hands of the husky visitors. The Red and Blue five being outweighed at least thirty pounds to a man.

The first half ended with the locals in the lead with the score 20 to 18. In the second half the visitors came back strong and wanted into the locals in every manner. Many fouls went un-called, Wagner being knocked out twice and Baesman once when their heads came in contact with the floor when thrown by opponents. The line-ups:

CITY OF PORTSMOUTH TRAFFIC REGULATIONS

ORDINANCE NUMBER 1752
Providing for traffic regulations and the use of the streets by every description of vehicles in the City of Portsmouth, Ohio.

Be it ordained by the Council of the City of Portsmouth, State of Ohio.

Section 1. That the owner, operator, driver or person in charge of any cart, dray, wagon, hackney coach, omnibus, automobile, carriage, buggy, motorcycle, tri-cycle, bicycle, or other vehicle used, propelled or driven upon the streets of the City of Portsmouth, shall conform to and observe the following rules of the road upon all such streets, alleys, avenues and public places in said city.

Section 2. No person riding, driving or in charge of any vehicle on any street, avenue or driveway in the city shall drive the same at a speed greater than is reasonable and proper, having regard to the traffic and use of the highway, or so as to endanger the life, limb or property of any person.

Section 3. Vehicles shall keep to the right side of the street, except when necessary to turn to the left in crossing the street or overtaking another vehicle.

Section 4. Vehicles moving slowly shall keep as close as possible to the curb on the right, allowing more swiftly moving vehicles free passage to their left.

Section 5. Vehicles meeting shall pass each other to the right.

Section 6. Vehicles overtaking shall keep to the left of the overtaken vehicle in passing.

Section 7. The driver, or person having charge of any vehicle, before turning the corner of any street or turning out or starting from, or stopping at the curb line, of any street, shall first see that there is sufficient space free from other vehicles, so that such turn, stop or start may be safely made, and shall then give a plainly visible or audible signal.

Section 8. A vehicle turning to the right into another street shall turn the corner as near to the curb as practicable.

Section 9. A vehicle turning to the left into another street shall pass to the right of and beyond the center of the street intersection before turning.

Section 10. A vehicle crossing from one side of the street to the other shall do so by turning to the left so as to head in the same direction as the traffic on that side of the street.

Section 11. No vehicle shall stop with its left side to the curb. When desiring to stop on the left side of the street, make a complete circle bringing the right side of the vehicle to the curb.

Section 12. On all street intersections, where the paths of vehicles cross each other, the vehicle on the right has the right of way over vehicle on the left.

Section 13. No vehicle, except apparatus of fire, police and hospital departments and physicians in case of emergency, shall be driven through a procession except with the permission of a police officer.

Section 14. The apparatus and vehicle of fire, police and hospital departments, when sounding gongs, shall have the right of way through all streets, alleys and thoroughfares.

Section 15. Vehicles and street cars shall stop or move on signal from a police officer.

Section 16. No horse or vehicle shall be driven, backed, led or allowed to stand, on any sidewalk which has been curbed, and no vehicle backed up to such curb, where in the process of loading or unloading, shall obstruct the free passage way of pedestrians on sidewalk by laying a plank from vehicle to door or by the use of skids in such a way as to force pedestrians into the street. Nothing contained in this section shall prevent the riding or driving of horse or vehicle from private property directly across the sidewalks of any street or from the roadway back to such.

Section 17. No vehicle shall remain backed up to the curb, except in the market district between the hours of 8 A. M. and 6 P. M., except to load thereon or unload therefrom and then for no longer period than may be actually necessary for such purpose.

Section 18. The horse or horses attached to a vehicle backed up to the curb shall be turned at right angle to the vehicle, or as nearly this angle as possible, and in the direction in which the traffic upon that side of the street is moving.

Section 19. No vehicle shall be permitted to stand at the curb in the congested district between the hours of 8 A. M. and 6 P. M., or a period longer than 60 minutes, and at all times shall move away from such curb at the request of a police officer.

Section 20. Within the meaning of this ordinance "congested district" shall be streets located between Second and Ninth, on Chillicothe street and between Washington and Jefferson on Second street and Chillicothe and John on Gallia street.

Section 21. No vehicle shall stop or stand within the intersection of any street or within ten feet of a street corner.

Section 22. No vehicle shall be left standing within twenty-five (25) feet of either side of entrance to any theatre or public building, except when taking on or discharging passengers or freight, and then only for such length of time as is actually necessary.

Section 23. No vehicle shall stop, for the purpose of taking on or setting down a passenger or unloading freight, or for any other purpose except in case of accident or other emergency, or when directed to stop by the police, in such a way as to obstruct any street or any street crossing, and then must move on as soon as again possible.

Section 24. The driver of every vehicle shall give some plainly visible or audible signal and shall keep his vehicle at least four (4) feet from the running board or lower step of any street car that is stopping for the purpose of taking on or discharging passengers, and if by reason of the narrowness of the street, or obstruction of the street by some other vehicle this shall be impossible, the vehicle must then stop and wait until such street car has moved on before proceeding.

Section 25. Street cars shall stop on one side of the street at the cross walk to discharge or take on passengers and not obstruct any intersecting street.

Section 26. Street cars running on tracks laid in the streets especially for their use shall have the right of way along such tracks, between cross streets over all vehicles moving in the same direction at a less rate of speed than 10 miles an hour; and the driver or operator of any such vehicle proceeding upon the track in front of a street car, shall turn out as soon as possible upon signal of the motorman of street car.

Section 27. In slowing up or stopping, a signal shall always be given to those behind by raising the whip or hand vertically or laterally visible from the rear.

Section 28. No person shall ride upon the back of any vehicle without the consent of the driver, and when so riding no part of the person's body must protrude beyond the limits of the vehicle. No person shall hang on to any vehicle in any manner whatsoever.

Section 29. Drivers of vehicles before turning or changing their course, shall make sure that such movement can be made in safety, and shall extend or wave the hand to give some visible signal outside of the vehicle as a signal to persons driving vehicles behind them of their intention to make such turning movement.

Section 30. Nothing contained herein or omitted herefrom shall be construed or held to relieve any person using or traveling or being upon any street, for any purpose whatsoever, from exercising all reasonable care to avoid or prevent injury through collision with all other persons and vehicles.

Section 31. No vehicle shall be allowed to remain upon or be driven through any street of the City of Portsmouth so as to willfully block or obstruct the traffic of that street.

Section 32. No vehicle shall be so overloaded that the horse or horses are unable to draw it.

Section 33. Street cars running south on Chillicothe street must all come to dead stop on approach of Fifth street.

Section 34. The police department shall have all powers and duties in relation to the management of vehicular traffic.

Section 35. This ordinance shall be printed in suitable form for distribution, and the police department shall keep copies of it at all of its stations and issue them on application.

Section 36. Any person violating any of the provisions of this ordinance, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be fined in any sum not more than twenty-five ($25) dollars for the first offense, and for a second and succeeding offense shall be fined not less than five ($5.00) dollars, nor more than twenty-five ($25.00) dollars, or imprisonment not more than thirty (30) days, or both.

MEETING A REQUIREMENT

Anticipating that enlargement of the steel plant will bring many more men to this locality, thus increasing the demand for homes, local capitalists have bought the large tract, known as School Land Hollow, just east of the north end of Millbrook lake and will divide it into lots and offer these for sale to prospective residents. Their undertaking promises to meet, what has so long been an acute need in this vicinity, cheaper land and so cheaper homes. As we understand the plan, the lands have been secured at such a price that acre lots, into which it will be subdivided, can be sold at a nominal figure as measured hereabouts. This will afford space for a house, chicken yard and garden patch, thus affording employment, both diverting and profitable for what might otherwise be idle periods.

It is not the province of these columns to "boom" real estate projects, but this seems to so fairly meet a requirement of the time and the place that has heretofore been so lacking, that we are impelled to commend this particular one, in the hope that we may confirm the gentlemen in their already formed purpose to engage in a laudable enterprise that will be of peculiar benefit to the community and yet return them moderate and only moderate profit.

Columbus is having her annual discussion over whether she will spend $100,000,000 for a flood defense system or be content with an ordinary $25,000,000 affair. And as usual the discussion will be carried on without tangible result until the next flood or flood scare causes it to break out with renewed virulence. In the meantime, of course, the thrifty gentlemen who are always to be found very much present upon such occasions, will continue to draw down their easily earned and highly remunerative salaries.

Our young niece says that if there is anything in her educational course that she highly approves of, it is the penny savings plan, for of course when school is out and there is no more chance to save, they will have to pay it all back in one big pile and that will mean one grand blow-out when we go on that little trip to the mountains she has planned and mapped out for us to take this summer.

United States Senator William E. Chilton, of the dry and imperial state of West Virginia, made a speech at a "home coming" that was given in his honor at Charleston the other night, and we have a suspicion after reading his remarks that the senator is rather popular with himself. Thus he pointed out their duty to his fellow citizens in this language: "The reason why the lamb loved Mary is a reason why you ought to love me. If I can get but one-half of my devotion to this section, in return, this year, I will have many such greetings as this."

After reading the daily bulletins about the struggle for Verdun, we find much relaxation these April nights in reading about the ancestors of these same fighters of the "Old Stone Age" who lived and loved and fought and died on the same territory something like 125,000 years ago. On the whole we rather admire the Stone Age men's methods a little better than those of our modern men. The Stone Age boys got out in the open with clubs and stones and oftentimes they came together, great bodies of them, with no better weapons than their fists. Then too, they would occasionally pick out champions and abide by the victory or defeat of their chosen ones. We suspect that these men of 125,000 years ago would have held up their hands in horror-stricken amazement as they related the barbarism and savagery of their descendants could they but have witnessed one of our modern battles with its machine guns, shell and shrapnel and chlorine gas.

East Liverpool is going to vote on saloons under the Beal law on May 6th next. There has been constant discussion in the town ever since saloons were voted back a couple of years ago, and the election this time may be considered a fair trial of strength between the friends and foes of Demon Rum. Both sides are well organized and a contest of unusual bitterness is expected.

Richard Harding Davis, in his younger days, was always a favorite author of ours. We do not recall having read anything that we more thoroughly enjoyed than his Gallegher stories and his Van Bibber stories. So too with some of his tales of adventure, improbable and bombastic as they sometimes were. But we agree with the Cincinnati Times-Star that when Davis abandoned the style in which he was a pioneer and in which he excelled, and became a Kipling imitator, he lost much of his strength and his charm. Had he kept on in the style of his earlier efforts he might easily have written something that would be long remembered as a classic.

IF MICHIGAN WERE THE UNITED STATES

Carranza asks that American troops be withdrawn from Mexico, but the natives are doing the very thing that makes certain their staying there.

Strikes us Cincinnati comes the nearest to being a village base ballistically than any other league member on the map. When its team loses, it is worse than a lot of sanderabs, when it wins it is immediately transformed into champions.

In a week the Excelsior shoe factory will be increasing its biggest output heretofore by quite twenty per cent. There isn't anything more gratifying than noting the growth and prosperity of Portsmouth's old industrial stand-bys, the shoe plants.

With five members of the board of education asking for an investigation of charges made against them by a sixth, it would seem Cincinnati politicians are getting squeamish in conscience.

Readily and quickly has New Boston granted the new demands made upon it by the Steel Mills Company. There is nothing like giving gracefully and 'tis said the Lord loves a cheerful giver.

It is not the most pleasant thing in the world to hear that at least two hundred thousand dollars will have to be spent on the water works to get a satisfactory and safe service.

And now the city is building a new wall to stop the slide from the hill along Gallia pike. And as yet the conundrum of why Gallia pike was cut down remains unsolved.

Two farmers were before the board of county commissioners this week, asking that they lay the best brick road that can be built. It is things like this that show Scioto county is not waking up, but is already fully awake.

Funny how things run. For about a week bunches of people have been telling us what a wonderfully fine paper The Times is. Next week, according to experience, there'll be other bunches swearing we ought to be run out of town and threatening to see that we are.

As yet we see little visible and outward sign of that stiff fight the Daugherty and Herriek factions were going to put up for the vote of Scioto county. So far John Reilly is about the only one making any noise and even he seems to be at it only half-heartedly.

It is well enough and proper to jubilate over the expansion, projected for the steel mills, but there will be more than a little regret that it means the eventual, even may be the early, extinction of Millbrook park, one of the fairest spots over which the laughing moon ever rode.

NEW-YORK-DAY-BY-DAY.

O-O-MCINTYRE.

New York, April 15.—The skating craze, which was heralded as the greatest rival of dancing, seems to have died in its infancy. The slump was expected naturally when warm weather came, but it arrived in the midst of a very cold spell.

A month ago the craze had reached its height. No one ever dreamed that the Biltmore rink would be closed before March 1, because of slackness of patronage, but it was. And the St. Nicholas rink has such a greatly diminished patronage that it has reduced its prices.

The Broadway crowd, which cares nothing for money, never was very enthusiastic about the sport. They did not find it as easy and pleasant a sport as dancing. It was entirely too strenuous. Women who have to look out for their beauty think of these things.

Vida Whitmore, one of the Broadway beauties, who is no longer quite an ingenue, discovered that skating made circles under her eyes. Right there the timeworn rattle for skating, so far as she was concerned, and many of her sisters followed her example.

New York has an old dramatic critic in H. Newkirk Clugston—a sort of free lance critic without any special newspaper ties. He just sells his criticisms to whoever will buy. He used to have inscribed on his business cards: "Investigateur des Crimes Dramatiques."

Now he has changed his card to read: "Dramatic Bookworm." On the back of the card appears this: "Owing to the prevalence of the bookworm in this country, and the careless thinking of the majority of Americans, the following admonition seems requisite. Do not confuse the pinus brunnea with the ankylostoma duodenale. We are the bookworm."

Clugston has the added distinction of bearing a striking resemblance to William Shakespeare.

COLD IN SPRING

Are you enjoying your Spring Cold? From the amount of coughing and sneezing we hear in public places we conclude you are ready to enjoy Life's lines on the subject.

What is so rare as a cold in the Spring? Then, if ever, come perfect colds. The myriad cold germs whistle and sing.

While you to your handkerchief manfully sling, And vainly try some comfort to bring

To your mournfully stricken soul. Your dear friends will faithfully try everything

On you as a cure for the cold. You find that relief time only will bring.

For the cold germs still whistle and gleefully sing, Still working your nose like a wet weather spring.

Then—presto! 'tis vanished, the cold.

SUNDAY THOUGHTS

Sunday in the city with its fine display and show—Ain't it different from the Sunday that the country people know? Different—oh, so different!—is its hurry and its rush. From the simple, holy silence and the God-inspired hush Country folks remember, who have up an' moved 't town An' it makes us sort o' lonesome-like when Sunday comes aroun'; Luggin' in your fashions, an' your doin's seems so odd, Like a wordly grant t' Satan an' a euphemism with God.

Sunday in the city! Why, there's nary bell nor chime That a man can tune his heart with when it comes t' meetin' time! Not a sound, I reckon, turnin' worldly thoughts away, Makin' Sunday any different from most any other day! An' your city "meetin'"! Do y's s'pose your hired choir Sings their music any sweeter or their anthems any higher Than the village singers who are only volunteer? Do y's s'pose that God don't listen 'cause they only sing by ear?

Sunday in the country! Can't y' hear the meetin' bells? Ringin' out upon the mornin', and the message that each tells!—How the feast is waitin' an' the holy bread is broke An' the spirit waits communion with the honest, simple folk? Can't y' hear th' singin' an' the long endurin' prayer, An' the lazy bees a-dronin' through the open windows there? Can't y' see the parents with their young 'uns in between? Can't y' hear the swish an' rustle of some ancient bombazine?

City an' the country! Oh, we've always been apart! An' it ain't so much, I reckon, in the standards of our heart As it is in habits; why, I believe we both are good An' we'd like each other better if we only understood. I ain't criticusin' how you keep your Sabbath days, For I s'pose the Lord considers that it's city folks ways But I can't help a-thinkin' you'd be glorified and blest By a Sunday in the country with its holiness an' rest.

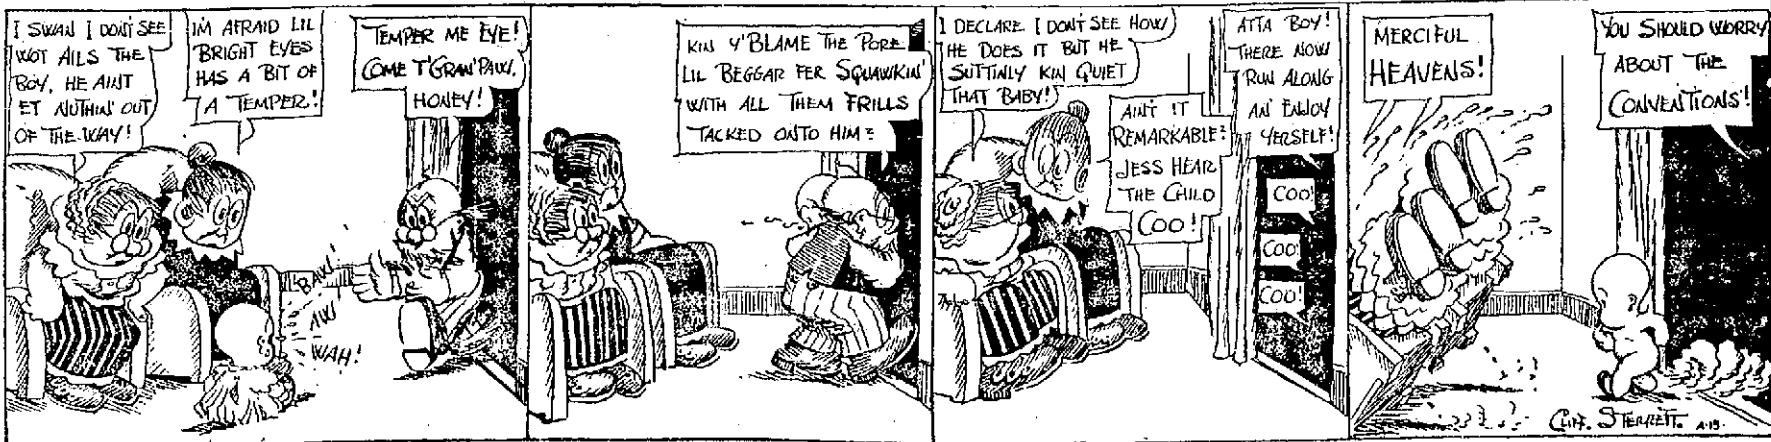

—John D. Wells in Woman's World for May.

Strikes us Alan Jordan is pretty much the right sort of a citizen. He favors the raising of the "Y" tow path to fifty feet. True enough he has a valuable farm across the river, but it would be more to his interest, in so far as that investment is concerned, to have the main tow path, which leads almost up to his gate, raised. Going further he offers practically for nothing, all the material that may be needed to raise the "Y", and yet a point beyond that will give the county all the land necessary to build a new causeway and the land to straighten out a crook south of Union Mills, that is absolutely of no consequence to him. A good many men would be figuring on just how much they could get out of the material, which will have to be got from his quarry land and doubling the price, and quadrupling the damages on the half-acre required for changing the road—and the land is worth at least $200 an acre.

"PREPAREDNESS" ORDERS COME FOR COMP'Y K

Want More Men To Fill Ranks; Will Not Be Obligated Unless Call To Arms Comes

Lieut. Joseph Horchow, of officers, is about sixty-five men. The company is in shape for service, should they be called.

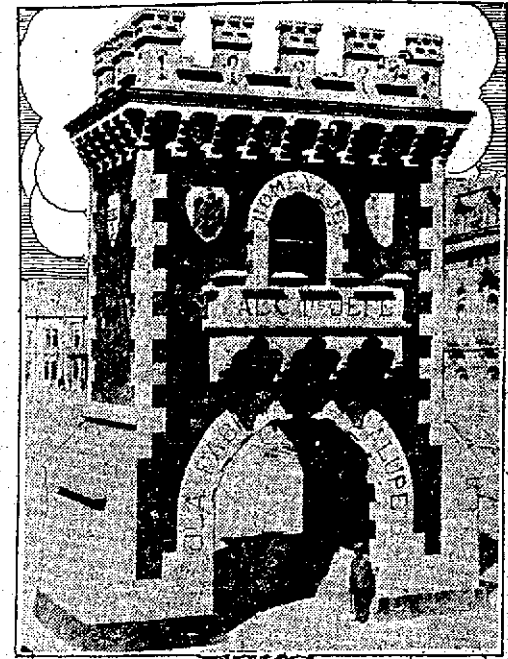

Those desiring to enlist under the provisions made by the departmental officers should see Marietta, requesting him to "conditionally" recruit the local company to full war strength at once. The conditional enlistment means that those who enlist will not be called upon for duty unless the local company is ordered to report for war duty.

"We would like to have twenty additional men at once," said Lieut. Horchow, "who would be willing to enlist under the conditions named by the commanding officer at Marietta. We would prefer single men between the ages of 21 to 25 years."

"Our prospects for being called for duty are very good," continued the speaker, "for the Adjutant General at Columbus has received instructions from the war department to get the Guards in readiness for service."

Mr. Turley Tells About Extensions At The Steel Plant

Considering the amount of business transacted in a brief space of time, your reporter had a very full report of the proceedings of the New Boston council Thursday evening in matters pertaining to the Steel Company improvements and incidentally, rather thoroughly advertised "me and a friend" said L. C. Turley Saturday morning.

But there are two or three facts he did not get right. Any one familiar with the situation would recognize this, others would not.

No figures were given by me as to the actual number of employees, present or future. Fortunately Mr. Gless and others present at the meeting know this. As a matter of fact the present number of employees ranges from 1,800 to 1,900. It is also a fact that the use of "hot metal" direct from the Blast Furnace to the Steel Furnaces as against "cold pig" does, automatically, increase the possible capacity of the mill, as it stands today, about 40 per cent, without new additions to it.

The immediate plans of the mill proper are for one blast furnace. The plans will be so drawn that a second blast furnace can be added if the company prospers and desires to build the second one.

Julian Kennedy, the foremost blast furnace engineer of the times, is making these plans. Likewise the plans will contemplate the building of by-product coke ovens at some future day if found advisable to build them. The second blast furnace and by-product plant plans depend to a great extent upon whether the Lakeside and other options are at prices to make the costs of same within reasonable limits.

The short extension of a street within the corporate limits of New Boston is not near the spillway but is only across the north head of the lake at Stewartville, New Boston.

There will be no further change in the location of the new office building so far as I know anything about it.

Membership Day At Trinity Sunday

Sunday will be known as membership day at Trinity church. A special service will be held at the morning hour of 10:30, at which every family is expected to be represented, and so far as possible every member of the church present. Let no family be unrepresented. Where it is impossible for all to come, let each family make special effort to send one or more representatives. There will be an "Alphabet Call" at which time each person will be expected to respond to that letter of the alphabet with which his name begins. At the close of the service a report will be made showing the percentage of members present under each letter of the alphabet. We are waiting to see which letter will show the highest percentage present. The pastor will preach on "The Blessings of Self-Denial," and excellent musical numbers will be rendered by the chorus choir. Visitors will be welcome at this service and all members are expected to be present.

PASSION WEEK SERVICES

Beginning on Sunday evening, April 16th, a series of Passion Week Services will be held at Trinity church. The sermon subjects for the week will be as follows:

Sunday Evening—"The Triumph of the Cross."

Monday Evening—"Nothing But Leaves."

Tuesday Evening—"Meeting the Challenge."

Wednesday Evening—"A Day of Retirement."

Thursday Evening—"Christ's Victory."

Friday Evening—"The Darkest Day in History."

PALM SUNDAY AT ALL SAINTS

Members of the Guild of St. Mary Magdalene met at the rectory this afternoon and made hundreds of Palm Crosses, which will be distributed to church people at the Choral Eucharist tomorrow morning.

At this service there will be the custom of the procession of the palms, which will take place immediately after the solemn blessing of the same by the pastor. The children of the choir will carry palm branches in the procession, in imitation of the children who cried Hosanna at the first Palm Sunday when Christ came into the Holy City. The beautiful Palm Sunday hymns will be sung at both morning and evening services, and at the evening service the pastor will preach about the Good Shepherd Who Gave His Life for the Sheep.

At this service also the choir will sing the "Story of the Cross," and for the offertory a new setting of the ancient Palm Sunday hymn, "Gloria Luce, et honor." "All Glory, Land and Honor," written more than seven hundred years ago by St. Chrodegang, Bishop of Orléans, and easily the most distinguished poet of the Carolingian era.

HELPFULNESS.

Every man and woman ought to prize above almost every other quality the capacity for self help, and yet every man and woman will at some time or other be sorely in need of the help of others and at some time or other will find that he or she can in turn give help even to the strongest.

Oratorical Contest Is Being Arranged

Arrangements are being made for an oratorical contest which will be staged between Ironton and Portsmouth high school students. The contest will take place the latter part of May on the evening before or on the evening of the track meet which is to be held by these two schools.

Each school will be represented by two students. The contestants are to write their own speeches. A trial contest will be held at the high school next Friday evening. There will be about five contestants. Each contestant is to talk fifteen minutes. This will be the first time a contest of this kind has been held by Portsmouth and Ironton. The talent displayed by local students in the P. H. S. Huntington debate has caused the local students and teachers to manifest great interest in the literary contests.

BREAKS PROMISE; WOMAN WILL GO TO WORKHOUSE

ED NUGENT IN THE CITY

Ed Nugent, a well known showman, is here visiting home folks, preparatory to taking the road with the O. L. Reilly Carnival Company, which will open its season at Williamson, W. Va., April 24th. Ed is looking well and prosperous. He put in the winter dividing his time between Pittsburgh and Washington. His show includes such attractions as the biggest baboon in captivity, Florida alligators, a three-headed calf and the mummified body of Joe Johnson, the negro arch-murderer of Louisiana.

Ed's brothers, John and Jim Nugent, are also still in the show business. John is with the Kennedy shows now touring Georgia, and Jim will shortly assume the management of the Frisco Park at Denver, Colo.

John King took Mag Hoffman, a woman arrested by Sheriff E. W. Smith early Friday morning for the Lawrence county authorities, to Ironton Friday. She was indicted at the last term of the Lawrence county courts for keeping a house of prostitution in Ironton and upon a plea of guilty was fined $100 and costs and given a six months jail sentence.

Upon promise to quit living this life and payment of $10, the remainder of the fine and sentence was suspended. Judge E. E. Corn learned that she was violating her promise in this city and ordered her arrest. She is now confined in the county jail at Ironton and will have to serve the six months sentence.

The Movies

Five Part Feature at the Exhibit Theatre

A frontier story of frontier life, with love interest throughout the five acts, is told by "The Love Trail," from the celebrated novel by Richard Doherty. It introduces an actress of exceptional beauty and youth, Miss Agnes Glynn, who plays the role of "Lynette Mildred," an orphan thrown upon her own resources at an early age. Miss Glynn shares honors with Fred Paul, a wandering South African physician, and sustains interest throughout the entire play.

The setting of the story is in South Africa during the Boer war. With the death of her parents, Lynette was thrown into the hands of an unscrupulous tavern-keeper.

Interesting events follow which round out a play of tense interest. A big reel of rollicking comedy will complete a most interesting Saturday show.

Every day that THE TIMES is published, builders list their bargains on TIMES WANT AD page.

Eighteen persons were taken in by Portsmouth Court, Tribe of Ben Hurs, and twelve new applications were received at the regular weekly meeting Friday night, bringing the total membership of that order close to the 1100 mark.

The candidates initiated were the following: Fred and May Smith, Nellie Ellis, William Shreubert, Minnie Riggs, Walter McCoy, Phoebe Taylor, Ed Martin, William Royal, Clyde Ellis, C. H. Davidson, Emory Clark, John Veleher, A. R. Pyle, Arthur Fritz, May Davidson, Mary Shaw and Leona Noel.

Deputy A. A. Ulles and several members of the newly instituted court at Fullerton, Ky., were guests of the Portsmouth court, which enjoyed a social session at the close of the degree work.

BROTHER OF LOCAL WOMAN EXPECTS TO BE SENT INTO MEXICO SOON

Mrs. Harry B. Maupin, of 1118 Second street, is in receipt of a letter from her brother, Sergeant Stanley H. Shields, formerly of Catlettsburg, Ky., stating that he is momentarily expecting to be sent into Mexico for active service. The Seventeenth U. S. infantry regiment of which he is a member was still stationed at Eagle Pass, Texas, at the time his letter was written. Sergeant Shields became a regular during the Spanish American war when he saw much active service and has remained in the army ever since. He was on the Island of Samar at the time a company of American soldiers were massacred by natives. He has since served several foreign enlistments.
